The Victory Loan is failing in New England.

That's the ugly truth.

The Boston and New England district is asleep or quitting.

The official report today from Loan headquarters told the story. With only three days left before the end of the drive, our New England district is MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS SHY OF ITS QUOTA.

$120,471,000 shy, to be exact.

Which means that New England must now hit up a subscription pace of $40,000,000 a day for the three days or bring the total.

That's the situation, fellow citizens, in plain hard-boiled language and no camouflage about it.

The fifteenth day (Wednesday) showed a sad sag. Tabulations today of the fifteenth day subscriptions, as reported by 742 out of the 855 banks in the New England district, gave the day's total as only $25,988,000.

That was in the face of reiterated warning that, when the business day opened yesterday, with four campaign

Report Former Czar and Family Are Still Alive

By International News Service.

London, May 8.—An unconfirmed report that the former Czar of Russia and his family are alive was received by the Chronicle from Berlin today. There were no details.

The ex-Czar and his family were reported to have been executed in Siberia and circumstantial accounts were given of the tragedy.

ARREST OWNER OF AUTO IN LYNN HOLDUP

Michael Kelley of Boston was arrested today in connection with the daylight robbery by four armed men of the J. F. Barnett & Sons leather factory in Lynn yesterday, when Treasurer Fred Barnett was forced to surrender the payroll of $3,700. One of the men was masked.

Kelley was traced by the number on a large automobile in which the four arrived and made their escape. The number plate, bearing the figures 66694, was registered as Kelley's. He told the police today he was forced to drive the car. According to the police, he told conflicting stories.

The arrest was made by Special Officers Joseph Mattey and John Brett of the Back Bay station. Kelley was found in a garage after an all-night search. He last address was given at No. 558 Windsor street. The Lynn police were notified.

The robbery was one of the most daring ever committed in that city. Entering the factory in broad day, while scores of employes were about, three men guarded the corridor while a fourth entered the office and seized the money.

Police officials declared that the holdup was committed by men familiar with the routine of the plant.

OUTRAGE IMPERILS WORKERS

One Passenger Seriously Injured and 45 Others Severely Shocked

Lawrence, May 8—Forty-six workingmen and women suffered fright, shock and minor physical injuries, and one man was seriously hurt, when dynamite placed on the trolley car tracks in Methuen exploded today, blowing a trolley car, bound from this city to Haverhill, from the rails.

The explosion awoke people miles away and shook houses in the immediate vicinity. Several of the women taken from the wreck were close to a nervous breakdown.

The car was the first one out of Lawrence today and the dynamite had evidently been carefully placed on the grooved rail during the night. No arrests have been made.

The police believe the outrage is the work of experienced dynamiters.

Two sticks of the high explosive had been "planted" on the track, one on each rail, apparently. Only one exploded, the other rolling clear and being discovered in the midday when detectives hurriedly arrived.

The motor box and several wheels were blown from the car, and all the glass windows and doors were smashed. Large splinters of wood were torn from the roof and floors, and were found 100 feet away.

The car staggered from the rails, but was traveling slowly when the explosion came, and stayed upright. There was immediately a wild scramble for the exits, in which several passengers were trampled.

Antonio Pellard suffered lacerations of the hands and face, and is believed to have sustained internal injuries. Edgar Blois was motorman and D. E. Stevenson conductor.

City Marshal O'Brien believes that the dynamite was part of that stolen several weeks ago from Senator's Farm in Andover, and the authorities are afraid that other outrages may be perpetrated before the stock of stolen explosives is exhausted.

BOSTON MAN KILLED IN AUTO SMASHUP

Newburyport, May 8—James Rowelle of Boston was killed and Alfred Mattisse of the same city severely hurt when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle on the state road in Salisbury.

Rawelle's body was taken to Undertaker Lunt's morgue and Mattisse was conveyed to the Anna Jaques hospital in this city.

The car got beyond control of Mattisse, who was driving, and overturned.

Germans Fighting to Save the Kaiser From Trial

Amsterdam, May 8.—Counter proposals to some of the peace terms have been prepared by the German envoys at Versailles, according to a news agency dispatch from Berlin today. The Germans are said to hold their greatest objection against the clause for the extradition and trial of the Kaiser and other personages responsible for the war.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
Correspondent of the International News Service.

Paris, May 8.—"Actions, not words, count now," President Wilson is understood to have declared when asked by Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau what effect had been made upon him by the speech of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation.

"What is the use of even thinking about it; whether the Germans sign or not," the President continued.

This summarizes official opinion in general. Should the German delegates refuse to sign, it would naturally result in another revolution in Germany, with another government which would have to sign for self-protection.

American Scores Great Beat on Peace Terms

The Boston American beat all the other evening newspapers of Boston in publishing the great news of the handing of the peace treaty to Germany yesterday. The American was the first Boston paper to have the peace terms on the street, and was the ONLY Boston paper to publish IN FULL the official summary of the treaty as sent out by the Committee on Public Information.

The American's Final Edition, containing what in newspaper talk is called a "flash," was on the street at 2:14 o'clock with a preliminary summary of about 2,500 words. This gave the gist of the history-making document to the public.

The American's nearest competitor in point of speed was not off the press until 2:43 with its first part of the summary, and with only about one-half as much text as the American's Final Edition had. Other papers strung along at 2:45, 2:53 and 2:57. The paper out at 2:53 had only a meagre stab at the story, some thirty-five lines of type.

In their last editions the other papers printed more or less part of the official summary, according to their abilities.

But the Night and Sporting editions of the American printed the official summary COMPLETE.

The only way the Boston and New England public was able to get the official summary of the German peace treaty word for word in full on the day it was given out, without waiting for the morning papers, was by reading the Boston American.

DOCTOR'S DEGREE FOR GENERAL EDWARDS

Major-General C. R. Edwards will be given the degree of D. C. L. (Doctor of Civil Law), at the commencement of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., June 16. ## FIGHT 'AID TO FRANCE' PLEDGE

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 8.—Republican Senators opposed to the League of Nations covenant as inextricably interwoven with the peace treaty were not in accord today with President Wilson's pledge to propose to the Senate that the United States be committed to immediate aid to France in the event of an unprovoked attack on that nation by Germany in the future.

While Senator Borah, Progressive Republican of Idaho, declined to comment on the press reveals of a whole draft that had an opportunity to study its official text, he permitted it to be known that the President's pledge to France did not meet with his approval.

On the other hand, Senator Smoot, old Guard Republican, of Utah, expressed the opinion that most senators, in particular, and American public sentiment in general, would offer no especial objection to the

Aviator Speeds With Copy of Treaty to Weimar

Versailles, May 8.—Immediately after the session at which the treaty of peace was handed to the German delegates, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, chairman of the delegation, gave a copy of that document to a trusted aerial courier, who at once started on the flight to Weimar, where he will hand the treaty to the Ebert cabinet.

101ST SOLDIERS REQUEST USE OF $40,000 FUND

There was a meeting of the Auxiliary to the 101st Infantry to the East Armory in East Newton street today to decide the disposition of the $40,000 of the Daisy Day Fund still unexpended. There were 150 women present, as well as Colonel Edward L. Logan, James J. Phelan and Joseph H. O'Neil, president of the Federal Trust Company and treasurer of the Fund.

Before the meeting of the auxiliary there was a meeting of a number of veterans of the 101st in the armory, and they appointed a committee to confer with the women and present their ideas as to the disposition of the Fund.

The committee was instructed to ask that a public accountant go over the fund accounts; to ask for the immediate use of the money among ex-soldiers in need, and to oppose any plan to tie the funds up for a time.

On the committee were Sergeant Daniel J. Horan of Headquarters Company, Sergeant Thomas Haley, 101st Supply Company, Sergeant John Sullivan of Company F, Private Clement Landgraf, Headquarters Company, and Private James J. Birmingham of I Company.

NC-4 LEADS SQUADRON IN FLIGHT UP COAST

Engines Running Perfectly, Sea Planes Are Speeding Along First Leg

Newport, R. I., May 8.—United States naval seaplane NC-4 was leading her sister planes, the NC-3 and the NC-1, this afternoon on the first leg of the trans-Atlantic air race from Rockaway Beach, L. I., to Halifax, N. S. The NC-4 was the second plane to leave Rockaway.

The NC-3, which "hopped off" Long Island first, was second in line. She was closely followed by the NC-1.

Radio messages from the planes to the United States destroyers following the overseas fliers were intercepted at the government radio station here. One message said the three planes were 50 miles apart, at approximately 2,000 feet over the water.

Radio operators aboard the aircraft reported the planes were making good progress. Their engines were running perfectly, a message said.

GERMANY FIGHTS TO SAVE EX-KAISER FROM TRIAL BY ALLIES

COUNTER PROPOSALS PLANNED BY ENEMY'S ENVOYS

The greater part of the peace treaty, as handed to the Germans, was written by President Wilson himself, and then later translated into French. It was learned here today.

The situation is expected to clear up quickly, as soon as popular opinion in Germany has crystallized.

When President Wilson returned to Paris a great crowd cheered as his limousine passed.

WORK ON AUSTRIAN PACT.

The Big Four today resumed their consideration of the demands that will be imposed on Austria. A meeting was held at the Paris "White House." More than 100 typewritten sheets have been prepared by President Wilson, setting forth his ideas on Austrian questions, such as boundaries and national rights, and these, with the last letter of the other allied leaders.

This will go far in aiding the work of the delegates, inasmuch as experts have already made reports on technical matters, and the Italians are ready to suggest compromises on Fiume. However, it is understood that the President is now willing to accept the compromise already outlined—that Fiume be made a free port for only three years.

It is hoped that the Austrian problem can be disposed of in a week and then the Bulgarian sections of the general treaty can be taken up. While the United States did not declare war against either Bulgaria or Turkey, the Americans will assist in preparing the terms, which will be of a nature to satisfy the United States and safeguard American interests.

HURRY TREATY TO WEIMAR.

The German peace envoys at Versailles worked over the treaty terms all night, analyzing and dissecting the document. Lights burned till daybreak in the German quarters.

A special messenger is hurrying to Weimar with a copy of the terms for presentation to President Ebert's Cabinet and the peace committee of the National Assembly.

The Germans were evidently greatly troubled by most Americans for there the peace terms. That was made evident by the expression on their faces when they left the Trianon Palace.

The Italian delegates who rushed back to Paris in time to attend the plenary session yesterday, are very active. Premier Orlando has already had one conference with President Wilson at the Paris "White House" since his arrival.

It is understood that the allies, while considering the Austrian treaty, will take up at the same time the questions involving Bulgaria and Turkey, in order to clear up the whole peace situation at the earliest possible moment.

President Wilson was warmly congratulated today on his victory in having the League of Nations inserted as part of the text of the treaty. This was the big task upon which the President has been working since he came to Paris last December.

The big question now is: Will Germany sign?

JUNKERS ARE DYING HARD.

Two weeks will be give the Germans to ponder upon the terms, but they will not be allowed to hold any oral discussion with the allied plenipotentiaries. Any suggestions from Germany must be put in writing.

Careful analysis of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's speech at Versailles indicated that Germany would sign, but that it would be grudgingly done.

The Junkers in Germany are dying hard, and they are now carrying on propaganda for an alliance with Russia. However, if Germany signs the treaty as it now stands, the "pact" entered into between the Germans and the Bolsheviks at Brest-Litovsk will be null and void. That is one of the terms.

Japan Holds Mandate for German Islands in North Pacific Ocean

Paris, May 8.—The Council of Three, M. Clemenceau, President Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George, says an official statement, "has decided as to the disposition of the former German colonies as follows:

"Nauru to Togoland and the Cameroons: France and Great Britain shall make a joint recommendation to the League of Nations as to their future.

"German East Africa: The mandate shall be held by Great Britain.

"German Southeast Africa: The mandate shall be held by the Union of South Africa.

"German Samoan Islands: The mandate shall be held by New Zealand.

"The German Pacific possessions south of the equator, excluding the German Samoan Islands and Nauru: The mandate shall be held by Australia.

"Nauru: The mandate shall be given to the British empire.

"The German Pacific Islands, north of the equator: The mandate shall be held by Japan."

Many Fingers in Pie, But No Plums for U. S.

Washington, May 8.—The Paris treaty will go down in history showing the nation whose entrance into the war, according to the enemy's own admission, caused his defeat, receiving not a single advantage, territorially, monetarily, or any other way, through the victory it helped achieve. That nation is the United States of America.

Practically every other belligerent is shown by the peace treaty summary as profiting because of the defeat of Germany. Some of them—notably France, England and Japan—profit largely. Their names are mentioned a score or more times in the summary. This is how:

As one of the principal nations in the preamble of the League of Nations covenant.

As having a representative on the repatriation commission which shall estimate Germany's ability to pay her war damages.

In connection with the Samoan treaty of 1899 with Germany and Great Britain.

When our nation is excepted in the clause dealing with the cancellation of pre-war contracts.

When a like exception is made regarding pre-war licenses.

As naming the prospective arbiter in Germany's cession of certain river craft.

G. O. P. DIVIDED ON ALLIANCE WITH FRANCE

Senators Hold Different Views on Wilson's Pledge of Aid in Case of Attack

United States pledging assistance to France if that country were again invaded by Germany.

STILL OPPOSE COVENANT.

Senator Smoot added that he did not anticipate the President's pledge would be one of the chief bones of contention when the opponents and proponents of the proposed League of Nations were called upon to consider the resolution of ratification framed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, by which the Senate will dispose of the peace treaty.

Both Borah and Smoot reiterated that they were still opposed to the league of Nations covenant in its amended as well as in its original form. Representing as they do different trends of thought and courses of action in the Senate, their divergence of views regarding the President's pledge were positively reflected by other Republican Senators who lean toward either the Borah or Smoot viewpoint.

"I am opposed to the United States entering any kind of an alliance with any foreign nation," Borah declared with an emphasis that permitted no doubt as to his meaning.

"How is an 'unprovoked attack' on France by Germany to be determined?" Borah inquired. "How is it to be determined when an 'attack' on one nation by another is 'unprovoked'? I believe that the American people are capable of deciding, when the time arrives for them to do so, as then they shall again go to the assistance of France, without the Senate being asked to commit them to an 'entangling alliance.'"

SMOOT FAVORS ALLIANCE.

Senator Smoot declared that, in his judgment, France was too highly regarded by most Americans for there to be any 'successful opposition' in or out of the Senate, "to any proposal that the United States be committed to a policy of preparedness to help the French people again in case Germany ran amok."

Although strongly intimating that he would be found with Borah and other Republican Senators in opposition to the League of Nations part when the Senate considered it, Smoot stated that he did not believe that leaders of the Irish Republican Army lorly could muster enough votes to prevent the ratification of the modified league convenant as well as the rest of the treaty except with certain important reservations."

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who is to be chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was the only Senators announced that they did not propose to attempt a discussion of the treaty until they had the official document before them.

TO REFLECT LODGE'S VIEWS.

A tentative program with regard to the peace treaty has already been mapped out by Lodge and other Republican leaders of the Senate. According to present indications the resolution of ratification will be reported to the Senate by the Foreign Relations Committee without recommendation. As Lodge is expected to name the Committee on Committees which will designate the personnel of the Republican majority membership of the Foreign Relations Committee, it is anticipated that the resolution of ratification will largely reflect the views of Lodge and his anti-League of Nations associates.

It is proposed by them that the Senate adopt the resolution of ratification in such form as will present to other nations a series of interpretations of the peace treaty, especially with regard to the medieval League of Nations covenant, as will provide an official notification as to how the pact is to be construed and is to be acted on henceforth by the treaty-making body of the United States government.

What the Press Says of the Peace Treaty

THE BOSTON HERALD.

"There can * * * be no acceptance of the treaty and rejection of the league. There might be amendments, particularly if made within the period which Germany has been given to reach conclusions. It is quite possible that the peace conference could be reassembled, the Senate amendments submitted to our partners and accepted, and Germany asked to consent to them as well as the original instrument. But it would take a majority vote in the Senate to amend the treaty, and we should imagine such vote would be exceedingly hard to obtain in the nearly equal division of that body. The more practical question is one of acceptance or rejection of the document as it stands, and over that issue the battle will rage."

THE BOSTON POST.

"* * * The German plenipotentiaries were handed the most humiliating and terrible peace treaty ever signed by any nation in the history of the earth. * * * Thus does the court of civilization sentence her to behave like a third-rate power, to military power, and, having pleaded guilty, she must serve her sentence.

"Thus have Germany's sins against equity and humanity, committed by her once powerful moorings of Moloch, but acquiesced in by the vast bulk of her people, come home to plague and weigh her down for many years. Thus is the menace of Prussian militarism removed for generations, if not forever. The punishment is fearful, but who dare say it is not deserved? And if there is a single one of the doubters who feared that Germany was to be 'let off easy,' and still fears it, let him point out a solitary instance of any such leniency.

THE BOSTON GLOBE.

"* * * Forever the peacemakers had before them the problem of demanding the full limit—and of stopping before adding the straw that would break the back of the German people. To determine that fine line has been the chief mission of the 'thousand experts.' And on that point depends the verdict of this history-making document.

"For the strength of a peace treaty is not discovered in a day. Its virtue is measured by its length of life.

"It is merely a structure. And the third particular, again, this treaty is a stranger to the archives of treaties.

"For it embraces the League of Nations covenant, and it provides for the creation of many international commissions. Commissions—and arbitration—have often proved the best solution in municipal, State, National and international affairs. They have been a means for men to adjust their difficulties without fighting.

"There is the hope of this treaty."

THE NEW YORK WORLD.

"The sternest and most drastic terms of peace ever imposed upon a great nation were formally presented to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles yesterday. German world power in the only sense in which it was ever understood by junkerism, is obliterated. The treaty in its final form is the death certificate of German imperialism, and as affecting the welfare of mankind, that is its most important provision.

"Severe as the terms are, they are by no means the ruthless peace of an insensate conqueror. German military power is destroyed for all time, but Germany is not dismembered. At the worst it is stripped of some of its former conquests."

THE NEW YORK SUN.

"The drastic scene at Versailles yesterday marked the completion of the first chapter of the work of the peace conference.

"Almost the last words of President Wilson to his fellow countrymen before his second departure on the George Washington conveyed a threat to the treaty-making authority in the Senate chamber at Washington.

"'When the treaty comes back,' said the President in the Metropolitan Opera House, 'gentlemen on this side will find the covenant in it, but so many threads of the treaty tied to it that you cannot dissect he covenant from the treaty without destroying the whole vital structure. The structure of peace will not be vital without the League of Nations, and no man is going to bring back a cadavar with him.'

"Mr. Wilson has riveted where he saw the bargain chance of profit to his main and dominant conception. He has stitched and tied wherever the stitching and tieing seemed to promise votes at Paris for his subsidiary fication with a vague but impressive scheme of world government."

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

"Against the German peril the world is made safe by the terms of the treaty handed to the representatives of that vanquished and humbled power at Paris yesterday. That is an all-important part of the instrument.

"The clauses which inhibit the military power of Germany will be scanned first of all and with deepest interest, for in every land the people are most concerned to know that, as Mr. Wilson put it, this agony shall not be gone through with again. The safeguards are ample, the bonds which the treaty puts upon Germany leave her without power to harm her neighbors."

THE NEW YORK HERALD.

"Whatever difference of opinion there may be concerning the practicability of a league of nations, there can be none over the inspiration of the terms upon which Germany is permitted to have peace, these are dictated by retributive justice.

"There should be no misunderstanding of this fact; certainly there will be none on the part of the fugitive Kaiser in his exile or of his once valiant war lords now indulging in crimination and recrimination among themselves, or of officials of the old regime of the camouflaged new regime, or of the masses of the German people.

"Certainly the American people will approve these terms, as they will be the spirit of the treaty as a whole."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

"A wild beast, breaking all tethers of morality and demanding savage jaws, sprang at the throat of civilization. To cage the monster—this was the war. Its shibboleth 'unconditional surrender.'

"But it was not enough temporarily to confine. Duty demanded the bars be thick and strong. This was the peace. Its shibboleth 'never again.'

"The news appropriately comes on Lusitania day. Whitened bones that strew the ocean sands have proved the timbers on which have been raised a mighty and just retribution.

"The judgments of the Lord are altogether righteous. Out of the frail frame work of women and children he forged a weapon that broke the skull of the behemoth—out of tiny fingers was fashioned a nail that reached the brain of Sisera."

THE BUFFALO COURIER.

"They are good strong terms which the peace treaty impose on Germany. Details of the part make for interesting and satisfactory reading. All fears of a 'weak peace' are brushed aside. The German will know they are defeated."

SPECTRES BACK TO HAUNT GERMANY

Heavy War Damages Are Assessed by New Peace Treaty

By Universal Service.

Washington, May 8.—"Chickens will come home to roost."

The peace treaty summary emphasizes this adage with painstaking exactness as far as Germany is concerned. All of the spectres of the triumphant military days of 1914 to 1918 are coming back to haunt the enemy as the inexorable law of retribution acts in his case. Excluding the major damage of the war, Germany will have to pay for all other damages done to civilians and their property. Seven categories, listed as follows, provides for this:

A. Damages by personal injury to civilians caused by acts of war directly or indirectly.

B. Damage caused to civilians by acts of cruelty ordered by the enemy and to civilians in occupied territory.

C. Damages caused by maltreatment of prisoners.

D. Damages to the allied peoples represented by pensions and reparation allowances, capitalized at the signature of this treaty.

E. Damages to property other than naval or military materials.

F. Damages to civilians by being forced to labor.

G. Damages in the form of levies or fines imposed by the enemy.

The bombing of an unfortified city, the severity practised by German commanders in occupied cities of France and Belgium, the horrors of the German prison camps, the "slave" labor forcibly taken to Germany from France and Belgium—these are all coming in the damage indictment against the Republic of Germany.

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON PEACE TREATY

THE RICHMOND DEMOCRAT.

"The German goose is plucked, down to the last pinfeather; all the fat is stripped away, only enough flesh is left to allow continued existence under the strictest regime; and if new feathers grow, they, too, are to be plucked."

THE WASHINGTON POST.

"The average American glancing over the multitude of commitments in the peace treaty as summarized is very apt to ask, 'What has all this to do with the United States?' Why couldn't the United States make peace without entangling itself in scores of questions in various parts of the world?"

DEAR FOLKS:

I AM a great believer in the principle of proving one's statements. There are some people, you know, who question the value of a $20 gold piece. Therefore, they seek some expert to test its value.

I have been telling you about the Wilson & Co. Certified Ham and Bacon—and I have not the slightest doubt that many of you have already made a satisfactory test of their excellent quality—but I thought I would try an experiment the other evening.

I bought a Wilson Certified Ham and had it cooked for dinner. I invited several friends to take dinner with me. I did not tell them that they were being served with a Wilson Certified Ham. I did not ask them how they liked it. I knew it had been cooked just right and I think I know how to slice ham as well as anybody. I waited to hear expressions of opinion from my guests.

One—a young lady who is a secretary to the National Honor Guard of the Salvation Army, started the ball rolling by remarking to my daughter: "Why, Eleanor, where did you buy this ham? It is the most delicious I ever ate."

Then another guest, who is a Y. M. C. A. secretary, spoke up and said: "Isn't this ham wonderful? Why it melts in your mouth, and what a delightful flavor it has."

And so it went, all around the table. Everybody expressed a very favorable opinion as to the quality and taste of the ham.

You know a Wilson & Co. Certified Ham is big enough to serve many people. There were several people as guests at my table—a couple of them being golfers, with very keen appetites—yet there was enough ham left to serve a couple of luncheons to several people.

When I told my guests finally that they had been served with a Wilson & Co. Certified Ham, they said to me: "We don't blame you for being so enthusiastic about the quality of the foods prepared by that firm. They certainly make good all of your claims about them."

Then they asked me a lot of questions about my experience with the workers in the Wilson & Co. organization, which I answered, but they were especially interested in a story I told them about the Good Fellowship Clubs which have been organized in the Wilson & Co. plants.

A recent experience with the Fellowship Club members in the New York plant gave me the cue to tell them how wonderful the workers are and how they pull together for their own betterment, as well as for the betterment of the business. The New York Fellowship Club was just getting under way. They held an election of officers and they elected the General Manager of the New York plant as their President. There is no Aristocracy of Workers in the New York or any other plant. Officials and the rank and file of workers mingle together on the same platform of membership and sisterhood.

One of the incidents of the meeting of the New York Fellowship Club that impressed me was that two vice-presidents of the Wilson & Co. organization came on from Chicago to attend and to talk to their fellow-workers.

A distance of 1000 miles separating the New York and Chicago plants does not interfere in the least with the chain of good fellowship that securely links all workers in these and the other plants into a bond of mutual sympathy, co-operation and understanding.

This Good Fellowship idea is the backbone of the Wilson & Co. business, and makes it possible for the firm to produce the highest grade of Certified Food Products and to send them everywhere with this reassuring slogan: "The Wilson Label Protects Your Table."

Sincerely, William C. Freeman,
110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

BISMARCK'S GREAT GERMAN EMPIRE STRIPPED BY THE ALLIES

THOUSANDS OF SQUARE MILES TAKEN FROM TEUTONS

Washington, May 8.—The "New Germany" will be a second rate power because of her prescribed geographical limitations, without taking into consideration the tremendous reduction in her military and naval armament.

Stripped of all her colonial possessions she emerges in Europe with great portions of territory taken from the Empire which Bismarck builded.

THE TERRITORY GERMANY LOSES.

| | Square Miles |
|---|---|
| To France: Alsace-Lorraine | 5,600 |
| To Belgium: Two small districts between Holland and Luxembourg | 382 |
| To Poland: Southeastern Silesia and most of Posen and West Prussia | 27,686 |
| To League of Nations: Mouth of River Memel and internationalized area around Danzig | 729 |
| Basin of the Saar | 738 |
| (Internationalized temporarily) | 1,467 |
| Total territory ceded | 35,135 |

TERRITORY DEPENDING ON PLEBISCITE.

| | Square miles. |
|---|---|
| Southeastern third of East Prussia and districts along the North Vistula River | 5,785 |
| Port of Schleswig | 2,787 |
| Total territory in balance | 8,572 |
| Grand total | 43,707 |

France, by restoration of Alsace-Lorraine, gains an area equivalent to approximately Connecticut and one-third of Rhode Island. Belgium's gain is a bit more than one-third the area of Rhode Island. Poland's gains are equal to West Virginia and Rhode Island combined. Area in balance approximates that of New Jersey. The grand total is about the area of Virginia.

Germany Also Loses:

The product of the Saar Valley coal mines for fifteen years, with the possibility of the loss becoming permanent.

Her rights in the Shantung Peninsula to Japan.

Practically all of her navy.

Fourteen submarine cables.

All of her army, with the exception of 100,000 men, including officers.

Her sovereignty over the important lines of Central Europe and the Kiel Canal.

Most of her merchant marine.

In addition, she will be compelled to make reparation for all damage done by her in the war, the amount to be determined by international commissions and estimated at many billions of dollars.

JURY AWARDS $1,200 TO QUINCY COUPLE

Mrs. Marion L. Kerr of Quincy and her husband, James L. Kerr, received verdicts totalling $1,200 by a jury in the civil session of the Norfolk County Superior Court in Dedham, in their suits against Joshia Grossman, which resulted from two automobiles colliding at Beal and Hancock streets, Quincy, July 30, 1918. Mrs. Kerr sued to recover $10,000 for personal injuries and received $1,000, while her husband sought $500 damages to his automobile and was given $200.

SAYS CASSIDY SISTERS HAD BITTER ROW

Housekeeper Testifies Lucille Objected to Mary's Marriage to Dr. Murphy

Bangor, Me., May 8.—Opposition to the late Dr. T. J. Murphy as a prospective brother-in-law was not confined to James W. Cassidy, according to the proponents of the $3,000,000 will who introduced evidence to that effect in Supreme Court today.

The contesting heirs in alleging undue influence on the part of James W. Cassidy toward his father had declared that James was responsible for the father's opposition to Dr. Murphy as a son-in-law.

Today Mrs. Fred Goodwin, housekeeper in the Cassidy home, testified that Lucille Cassidy, one of the contestants of the will, had violently opposed the marriage of her sister Mary to Dr. Murphy and used very derogatory remarks in expressing her disapproval when the wedding took place. Witness testified that Lucille threw the wedding gifts to the floor and smashed some of the fragile ones. A bitter quarrel resulted and she did not speak to her sister for months.

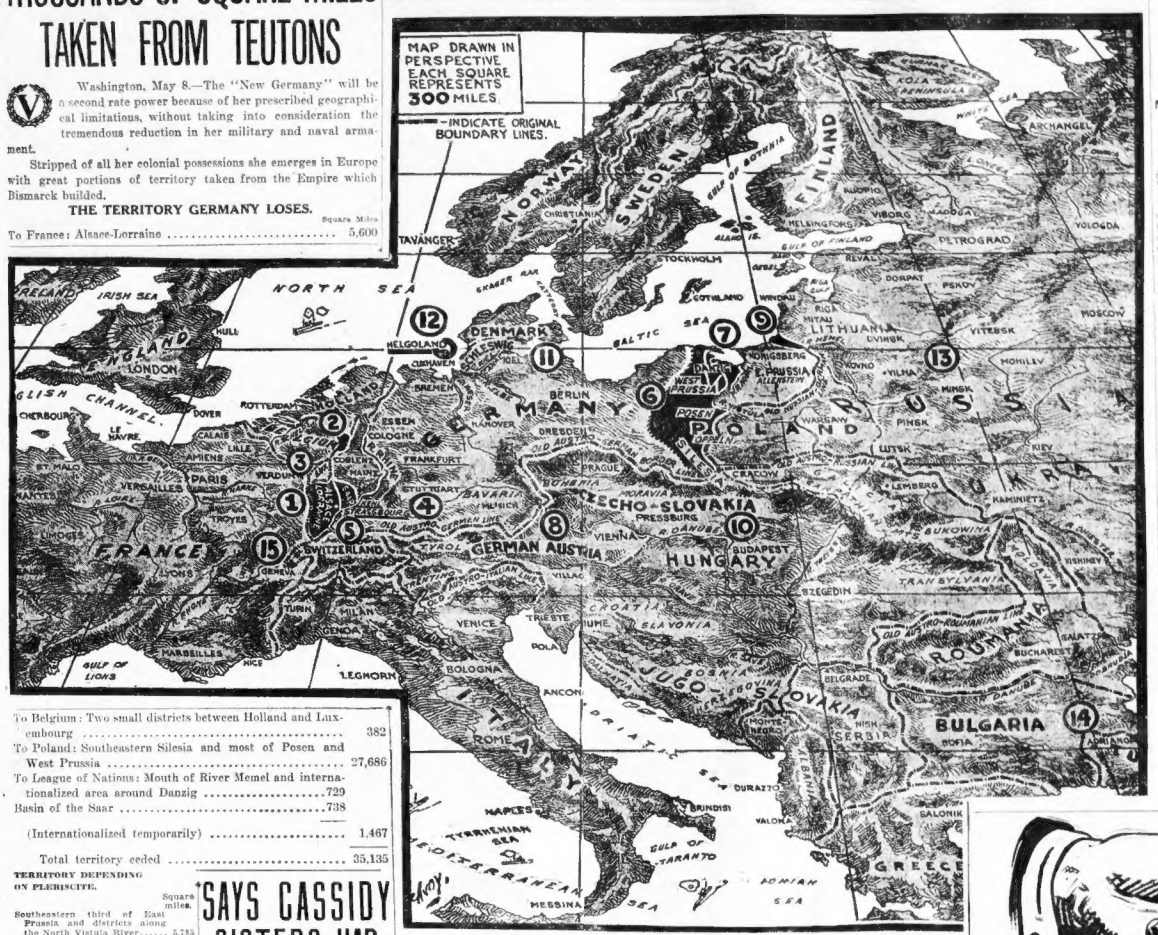
TERRITORY GERMANY SURRENDERS UNDER TREATY



Germany's territorial losses in Europe, under the Peace Treaty and an approximate markation of the new frontiers, are shown on the accompanying map.

1. Alsace-Lorraine, restored to France.

2. Two small districts between Holland and Luxembourg granted to Belgium.

3. Luxembourg, freed entirely from German domination.

4. The Rhine, along which Germany forts fifty kilometers east of the river are dismantled.

5. The Saar Valley, which is internationalized temporarily and given to France for Germany's destruction of its coal mines.

6. Territorial award of most of Silesia, Posen and West Prussia to Poland.

7. Danzig, internationalized permanently.

8. German Austria, made entirely independent.

9. East Prussia, disposition of the greater part of which hinges on plebiscites.

10. Czecho-Slovakia, made independent.

11. Schleswig, the destiny of which hinges on a plebiscite, and also Kiel Canal, which is opened to all nations.

12. Helgoland, to be dismantled.

13. Russia, whose territory under the former empire is made inviolable.

14. Bulgaria and Turkey, with whom the allies will make whatever arrangements they desire without consulting Germany.

15. Geneva, the capital of the League of Nations.

Bootblacks Held 'Bootleggers' for Soldiers

Two Dewey square bootblacks were arrested by officers of the Lagrange street station today for "bootlegging" whiskey at $1.50 a pint to soldiers and sailors from Commonwealth Pier and the troop transports.

The men gave the names of Dominick Laita and Belisario Cotugno, and their place of business as No. 659 Atlantic avenue. The place had a reputation among service men extending to the embarkation camps in France, according to the police.

All a soldier or sailor had to do who had the password was to enter the place, get a shine, give the high sign and the whiskey would be shoved into a slide leading into an alleyway.

A plain clothes man tried the stunt today, was rewarded with a pint at $1.50, and then Sergeant McKinnon and Patrolmen Mahoney, Fitzgerald and Merrill of Station 4 put the bootblacks under arrest. A search of the premises revealed 150 pints of whiskey.

PERSHING WILL RETURN TO U.S. IN JULY

700,000 Men Will Have Been Left in France at Close of May

Washington, May 8.—General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Force, will be back in the United States sometime in July, it was announced today by Secretary of War Baker.

It was announced also that Lieutenant-General Liggett has been given charge of the Army of Occupation, which Mr. Baker says, consists of 200,000 men. What is to be done with this army has become a problem which must be met by Congress at a very early date as the regular army of the United States consists of only 275,000 men for home and the possessions.

There are about 700,000 men who will have been left in France at the close of this month. That number, however, Mr. Baker says, can be brought home by August 1 with the exception of a few that will be left at camps, hospitals, etc., for the work of final demobilization.

The treaty of peace terms announced today indicate that it is the intention of the Allies and the associated powers to keep a strong military force in Europe for fifteen years, but the total is to be decreased every five years if Germany keeps faith with the Allies.

Atlas Skinner Dead; Faithful Servant of City Since '72

City Hall mourns today.

Atlas Skinner, faithful servant of the city of Boston for forty-seven years, has passed away.

For nearly fifty years, Atlas, better known as "Father Time," has made his daily rounds of all departments winding clocks.

A venerable, courteous old colored gentleman was Atlas, with gracious manners, and a spotless record of service. He was seventy-one years of age and went to work for the city in 1872.

His father of the old slavery days, how he was bought and sold three or four times, how his mother was separated from him by being sold into slavery, have interested City Hall employes for many years.

He is survived by a wife, daughter and two sons, one of whom recently returned from France, where he saw much active service.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Northampton and Columbus avenue.

When James Brown, forty-six, of No. 874 East Sixth street, South Boston, was pitched from a street car as it came into collision with another car at the junction of Huntington avenue, Boylston and Clarendon streets in the Back Bay, he landed on his left leg, which was broken.

John H. Carley, who lives at No. 32 O street, South Boston, a conductor on one of the cars, sustained abrasions on the face when he was thrown to the street, and Elizabeth Dillar of No. 326 White street, Everett, became hysterical.

GIRL REFUSES TO TAKE OATH TO ESCAPE JAIL

Martha Foley, Given a Year for Roxbury Riot, Fights Sentence of Court

Martha Foley, Suffragist and radical, will not "take the oath of allegiance" or otherwise demonstrate her patriotism to escape serving a year in jail for her part in the May Day riots in Roxbury, according to her counsel, Thomas G. Connolly, today.

Miss Foley, who was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction by Judge Hayden in Roxbury Municipal Court, refused to wave its today and unable to appear.

Her lawyer, however, said he did not see how she could accept the tentative offer of Judge Hayden to lighten her sentence if she would swear allegiance to the country, or otherwise give guarantees that she was a loyal American. "I don't see that my client is called on to take this oath," said Mr. Connolly.

A girl has a right to walk from one hall to another. She is not compelled by law to carry an American flag while she is thus within her rights, in fact she is even entitled to police protection.

"In those circumstances there is nothing to be done except appeal the case."

All the alleged rioters sentenced yesterday appealed today, except Eva Freed of No. 8 Walnut avenue, Roxbury, who paid her fine of $50 for rioting and assault.

Two men not concerned in the big row of May 1st were in court today charged with having a brick fight at the Dudley street station during the general disturbance. Lightning Manning of No. 25 Hillsboro street and H. Onethus of Quincy were sentenced to a month each in jail. They appealed.

Auerbach was fined $10 in Central District Court by Judge Winn. Segal's case was placed on file.

ARRESTS SOON IN NEW CANAAN DEATH CASE

Coroner Says That Operation Caused the Death of Mystery Girl

New Canaan, Ct., May 8.—Three arrests in connection with the murder of the young woman whose body was found in Buttonbush Bog, near here, were forecasted today by detectives working in the case. A woman and two men are under suspicion, and if new clews confirm the theory of the detectives, all three will be taken into custody.

Coroner Phelan today found that the girl came to her death as the result of a criminal operation.

Two button cushions found on the clothing area were regarded as important clues today. These peculiar cushions are made by a few firms only. It was stated. The two found on the dead girl were on her big toes.

The dresses were made of leather, concave in shape and 2½ by 1¾ inches in size and supported on the under side by absorbent cotton.

VICTORY LOAN THREATENED WITH FAILURE IN NEW ENGLAND

DISTRICT IS $120,471,000 SHORT OF QUOTA

days to go, it was necessary to average more than $36,000,000 a day.

Instead of rising to that average the district fell more than $10,000,000 below it. The result, of course, was a jump in the necessary average for the three remaining days.

PUBLIC MUST WAKE UP.

Hence the new speed mark of $40,000,000 per day.

The nation-wide situation showed need of a spur to the public from coast to coast. A Washington dispatches today said that Treasury Department officials predict that by nightfall subscriptions would total $3,000,000,000. This would leave $1,500,000,000 to be subscribed in the two remaining days of the campaign—a task which, while gigantic, they felt confident would be accomplished.

Boston's total subscriptions for the fifteenth day were $7,406,000.

This gave a net total, after transferring credits subscribed to outside cities and towns, of approximately $49,000,000.

This is nearly more than half of Boston's quota, while the district as a whole is 61 per cent. subscribed.

Boston's quota of $96,567,000 is equal to the combined quota of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont, but so it has been on each one of the four previous loans. It will be a tremendous effort in Boston to make the city is to reach the top at midnight on Saturday.

The detailed report State by State:

HONOR FOR CONNECTICUT.

| | 15th Day | Total. |
|---|---|---|
| Maine | $1,430,000 | $16,158,000 |
| New Hampshire | 821,000 | 8,738,000 |
| Vermont | 1,250,000 | 8,954,000 |
| Rhode Island | 4,514,000 | 25,283,000 |
| Connecticut | 4,000,000 | 37,500,000 |
| Massachusetts | 15,920,000 | 149,183,000 |
| Totals | $27,935,000 | $254,529,000 |

Connecticut thus over the has subscribed 104 per cent. of her quota and Vermont is 94 per cent. subscribed on the official returns.

On the Fourth Loan for the same period the total New England subscriptions amounted to $375,486,000, which is just over the quota, which New England faces at this time. The number of New England subscribers at the end of the fifteenth day in this drive was only 782,216.

The following Victory Loan meetings and speakers in and about Boston were announced for tonight:

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ookala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neolin Soles.

He writes, "After wearing a pair of Neolin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I went them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neolin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

WOMEN OUT TO PUT 'V' LOAN OVER TOP

With a rousing rally at the Parkman bandstand on the Common, tomorrow, the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee of Massachusetts will bring its vigorous campaign for the Victory Fifth to a close. Some of the notal speakers of the campaign will address the meeting.

The "Fighting Mayor of Seattle," Ole Hanson, is to speak. Ten captured German helmets a number of hand grenades and other war relics will be awarded to bond buyers. A regimental band of the highest standard will play.

Claimants for the special Honor flag offered by the Women's Committee for a 75 per cent. participation in the Victory Loan are pouring in at headquarters. Already there are claimants for the German helmets, 50 of which have been set aside for 100 per cent. participation in the buying of Victory Bonds.

The first one to comply with the conditions was the Woman Principals' Club of Holyoke. This club of twelve members has bought twelve bonds, having a total value of $1,800. The Hebron Equal Franchise Club of Hebron, Ct., is the second claimant.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, the women's committees of "The Newtons" are doing vigorous work. The Newton committee covers the towns of Newton, Chestnut Hill, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Waban, Auburndale, West Newton, Newtonville, Newton Lower Falls and Newton Upper Falls.

3 NAVAL PLANES HOP OFF ON BIG FLIGHT

NC-4, commanded by Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read, Lyme, N. H.

The NC-3 took off first, skimming out over the water like a giant water-fowl, sending spray splashing high before she rose gracefully and turned her nose to the northeast.

The NC-4 raced down the bay and fifty-eight seconds later left the water. The NC-4 was off third, one minute later.

CROWD SEES TAKE-OFF.

A big crowd saw the take-off from some distance from the hangars. The giant dirigible balloon C-5, trailing a big American flag from her stern, flew over the naval air station just as the naval flying ships tilted into the air, and then turned her nose about in pursuit.

A number of small dirigibles and seaplanes which were hovering around the starting point, brought up the rear, planning to escort the three Atlantic planes up the coast. The submarine chaser 173 dashed off in the northeast on the trail of the speeding seaplanes, but was quickly distanced, as the naval ships disappeared from sight.

In the crowd that gathered for the start were eight-year-old Margaret Jane Richardson, daughter of Commander Richardson of the NC-3; Commander A. K. Atkins of Washington, head of the Aviation Bureau of Steam Engineering, and Mrs. Ida E. Harding, aunt of Lieutenant J. T. Herin, pilot of NC-1. She lives at Portland, Ore., and came here from Norfolk, Va., to wish her nephew goodbye.

Besides the thermos bottles containing the coffee, and a pasteboard box full of sandwiches and cake, each seaplane carried 36 pounds of extra clothing, five pounds for each member of her crew.

Commander Towers went aboard the NC-3, his flagship, 22 minutes before the take-off. He waved goodbye to the crowd.

OUT TO WIN HONOR.

"There is nothing that we can see now that will prevent us from being in Halifax by 6 o'clock tonight," he said. "The men are a fine set. We couldn't have better. We have been looking forward to this kind of a day for nearly a week. We are confident that the flyers from the American navy will be the first to cross the Atlantic."

A minute after Towers waved his hand in signal the twelve motors on the three planes began to roar, and the spectators clapped their hands to their ears. The machines made a complete circle for about half a mile, turned to the right, and then sped down the bay.

American warships, selected to station themselves at 100 mile intervals between Trepassy and the Azores, to assist the flying ships if they come to grief, already have put to sea.

"With the help of God and in spite of the devil, we will do this little thing," was the parting statement of Lieutenant-Commander Bellinger of the NC-1, one of the navy's most experienced flyers.

KEEP NEAR TO SAND.

The distance from the naval flying station here to Halifax harbor is 540 miles. The seaplane pilots planned to complete the first leg in seven and one-half or eight hours, holding so close to the Atlantic coast that they would be easily within sight of land practically all the way. Their mapped course carried them over the water for the entire route, excepting a narrow strip of land at Monomoy Point, Cape Cod.

The second leg of the flight, from Halifax to Trepassy, N. S., calls for a hop of 460 nautical miles. From Trepassy, where a flying field is being put in shape to receive the naval planes, the start will be made for the Azores Islands. From the Azores the airmen will fly to Portugal, completing the crossing of the Atlantic and then on to England.

Weather conditions for the "jump-off" today were good, but by no means perfect. The sky was overhung with low clouds and a breeze swept down from the north, coming almost directly from the direction into which the planes must head. But reports said conditions further north were more favorable.

PLANES MAKE TRIAL FLIGHT.

The NC-3 was first off the ground on the trial flight. She rose at 7:30 a. m. with a load of 24,000 pounds to test her three new motors. Men from all crews were aboard. She remained aloft until 8:30. The NC-1, which had been having some trouble with the aileron arm or wing substituted after the fire in which she was badly damaged, took a few minutes later.

The personnel of the three flying boats follows:

NC-3: Crew 1—Commander Towers of Washington, D. C.; Commander H. C. Richardson, pilot, of Shamokin, Pa.; Lieutenant David H. McCulloch, pilot, of Newport, Pa.; radio operator, Lieutenant-Commander R. A. Lavender of Rockwell City, Ia.; engineer machinist, L. R. Moore of Grand Island, Neb.; reserve pilot engineer, Lieutenant Braxton Rhodes of Windsor, S. C.

NC-4. Crew 2—Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read of Lyme, N. H.; pilot, Lieutenant E. F. Stone of Livonia, N. Y.; pilot, Lieutenant J. G. Walter Hinton of Van Wert, O.; radio operator, Ensign H. C. Rodd of Cleveland, O.; engineer, chief special mechanic, E. H. Howard of Cutchogue, L. I.; reserve pilot engineer, J. L. Hreese of New York city.

NC-1. Crew 3—Lieutenant Commander P. N. L. Bellinger of Cheraw, S. C.; pilot, Lieutenant Commander M. A. Mitscher of Oklahoma City, Okla.; pilot, Lieutenant J. T. Barin of Portland, Ore.; radio operator, Lieutenant J. E. H. Fadenwater of Brooklyn, N. Y.; engineer, Chief Machinist Mate C. F. Kesler of Eaton, O.; reserve pilot, engineer, machinist, Rasmus Christensen of New York city.

The reserve pilot engineers of all three boats will be dropped at Newfoundland.

WEYMOUTH FIREMEN UNPAID, IS CHARGE

The Weymouth firemen are in a quandary today. The selectmen who failed to reappoint the old fire department this year, also failed to appoint a new one and the men have been working since May 1 without pay.

They were in hopes that the selectmen would reinstate them but the town fathers have failed to respond. These men have decided to leave the town without fire protection tonight.

RELATIVES ARE HOSTS FOR ENGINEERS

Symphony Hall Banquet Will Follow Field Day and Picnic at Weston

More than 1,000 soldiers of the 13th Railway Engineers were royally entertained at a field day and picnic at the Riverside Recreation Club at Weston, by the association of their relatives, of which James J. Phelan is president. In the evening they will be treated to a banquet and reception at Symphony Hall, followed by the Pops.

The boys reached the grounds of the club early in the morning, where they were greeted by more than 2,000 friends and relatives. Athletic games and races were held. At noon each received a large box luncheon, with the real coffee like mother made. A lively game of baseball between two groups was played in the afternoon, Captain Elliott Hurlin and Sergeant Frank Nagle headed the contesting teams.

After the banquet the Pop concert will be the closing feature of the day. The program is partly made up by the engineers, with the assistance of the conductor, Mr. Jacchia.

The men in this company were mostly recruited from the various railways of the State. Lt. H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine Railroad and other officials are expected to be present in the evening. The boys will be seated at tables on the main floor, while the galleries will be thrown open to their friends and relatives.

"The Terribles" Visit Boston; Greeted by Governor and Mayor

Three hundred Wisconsin soldiers who earned in France the title "The Terribles" came through Boston from Camp Devens today and made informal visits to Governor Coolidge and Mayor Peters. The men are members of the 128th Field Artillery, 32d Division, and while in Boston were guests of the Y. M. C. A.

After making their calls upon officials they attended Fenway Park to see Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson in action.

Sergeant Makes Good Promise to Send Recruit Over

"Your sure made good your promise."

Which was the message sent to Recruiting Officer Sergeant Stebbins of No. 12A Tremont row by Private Eric H. Grant of No. 10 Whitten place, Roxbury. This was the way it happened:

Private Grant has spen many months at Camp Devens just pining to get to France.

On Monday evening, April 7, he saw flashed on the screen at a movie "Thousands of our young men are being sent to France and Germany as soldiers in our army. Do you want a chance?

"I've come t ocall your bluff," said Grant to Sergeant Stebbins next morning at the recruiting office.

"No bluff," said Stebbins, "you will start for France within thirty days."

"I have been at Devens so long waiting for some real action it does not seem as if I could be anywhere else," replied Grant. "I am willing to be shown, though.

He was shown. And less than a month later Stebbins of the recruiting office received a letter, just as Grant was sailing for service overseas.

"We leave for France today, this May 6, on the U. S. S. Agamemnon. You sure make good your promise. One thousand more men leave Thursday, May 8. Some speed. Keep up the good work.

Your friend,
Private Eric Grant,
D Co., 1st B. G. R. A. E. F.

There is room at the recruiting station in Tremont Row for others like Grant, says Major F. B. Shaw, in charge.

LEGLESS HEROES TO DANCE, SAYS NOTED BELGIAN

Colonel Depage, Distinguished Surgeon, in Boston, Tells of Wonders in Artificial Limbs

Legless war heroes will soon be doing fox dances and men minus arms will shortly be shaving themselves, according to Colonel Antoine Depage, a distinguished Belgian surgeon, and friend of Edith Cavell, who is in Boston on a surgical mission.

American artificial limbs have up to now maintained their supremacy, but a recent invention of a Belgian, says Colonel Depage, will afford even greater improvements.

Colonel Depage will meet several well-known American surgeons at New York tomorrow, where a conference has been arranged to establish a Teacher of Laboratories in allied countries and the interchange of ideas and methods to take away from the Germans whatever supremacy they may have had in the past in laboratory work.

Colonel Depage is accompanied by Maitre Van de Velde of the Belgian army, and the two will make a tour of Eastern cities and attend the congress of the American Medical Association at Atlantic City June 9 to 12.

It was at the hospital of Colonel Depage that Edith Cavell lived. Miss Cavell was matron of the institution at the time of her murder by the Germans. Colonel Depage and Miss Cavell organized the hospital in Brussels during the German advance and even after German occupation, taking care of German and Belgian soldiers alike.

Following her death and saddened by the death of his wife who was lost on the Lusitania, Colonel Depage fled from Brussels and escaped to England from which place he returned to Belgium and enlisted his own army. Here he established the hospital at La Panne and one at Vinckem, each of which were capable of taking care of 30,000 wounded. [A the former of Virginia, the minority leader.

WILSON TO TAKE UP 'DRY' LAW ON RETURN

Paris, May 8.—The report from the United States quoting Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, as saying that President Wilson had assured him he would set aside the war time prohibition measure effective July 1, if he found America's sentiment against it on his return to the United States was confirmed in official circles close to the President in his personality.

President Wilson's position is that this is a domestic problem and he cannot intrude its merits while he is 3,000 miles from Washington.

The President will not consider the matter until on returns to the United States and hears the reports of officials.

Chase Operators as Aftermath of the Phone Strike

Excitement prevailed at the Brookline telephone exchange when the new operators, including at the exchange on Aspinwall avenue, were followed by a group of operators as they left the building. With the arrival of the training operators on the street, it is understood, they were met by the staff operators. The excitement which followed brought Traffic Officer Patrick Hennessey, and the two girls were escorted to Village square in company of policemen and boarded cars for their homes.

The young women, who are sisters, union operators claim, worked during the telephone strike and when that word was spread, their presence on the street was awaited.

LAUD FORD FOR TRUE STORY OF K. C. WORK

Y. D. Chaplain Says Boston American Writer Only Correspondent to Tell of Benefits

Bert Ford was eulogized by the Rev. John H. Devaney, one of the Roman Catholic chaplains of the Yankee Division, as the first newspaper correspondent to send back word to the United States of the work of the Knights of Columbus among the American soldiers on the battlefields in France.

The occasion was the eleventh annual banquet of Rose Croix Council No. 1221, Knights of Columbus, at the Boston City Club.

DEVOTED TO KNIGHTS.

Speakers were Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy, State Deputy William J. Day, Maj. M. J. Splaine, Dr. James P. Kelly, Chaplain John M. Quinn, United States Navy; State Secretary William C. Prout, Major James A. McDade and Grand Knight Edward W. Joyce.

"Bert Ford," one of your guests, was the first correspondent to send back word to the United States of what the Knights of Columbus and their chaplains were doing for the doughboys," said Chaplain DeValle.

"He came to me, got our pictures and stories and then broadcasted, and the order owes him a debt of gratitude for his kindly interest."

BERT FORD CHEERED.

Michael J. Ryan, toastmaster, presented Bert Ford as "the correspondent who sent the first word to America of the demotion of Colonel Edward L. Logan." Mr. Ford was given an ovation. It was many minutes before he could speak. His address, replete with thrilling incidents of the war, lasted nearly an hour.

The committee in charge comprised C. Joseph Connell, chairman; William Doolan, Thomas Kelly, Timothy J. McDonough, Frank A. Willhauck, William Keane, Charles H. Savage, Thomas F. Phelan, Deputy Fire Chief Daniel F. Sennott, James W. Hennigan, Joseph McElroy and Edward W. Joyce.

$10,000 SUIT FILED ON USE OF GRIP SERUM

An influenza serum forms the basis of a $10,000 suit filed in the Suffolk Superior Court by Thelma Crowden of Boston against Dr. William W. Duckering of No. 158 Harvard street, Dorchester. In one count she alleges breach of a warranty that the serum he sold her was reasonably fit to inoculate her with, and in another count claims he falsely represented to her that the serum was harmless, whereas in truth it was poisonous and dangerous and made her very ill.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing condition can usually be successfully treated at home by an inexpensive home remedy. In many instances has effected complete relief where other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had the hissing or roaring sounds in the head entirely cleared away, so that conversation and even whispers can be heard distinctly again. Others have had their hearing greatly improved after using this simple remedy. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and they may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce the inflammation, inflammation and swelling in the middle ear, but also to equalize the air pressure on the drum membrane of the ear, and the results are often remarkable. Many who have used this recipe say that every particle of catarrh in any form, or distressing sounding, hissing sounds in the head disappear after this recipe a brief application.

THIEVES BAFFLE AUTHORITIES AT DEVENS

Blame Y. D. Men for Leaving Government Property in Unlocked Barracks

Camp Devens, Ayer, May 8.—Wholesale thefts of army material continue in this cantonment. The authorities are baffled in apprehending the culprits.

Officers of the provost guard blame men of the Yankee Division for leaving the goods in barracks without posting sentinels to watch the places. All doors leading to these barracks were found unlocked. An order has been issued to apprehend all persons caught leaving regimental quarters.

When men of the different units of the Yankee Division left the service their accoutrements were placed in the barracks they occupied to be collected by the Quartermaster Corps, it is stated.

Just who the guilty parties are that pilfered the government property agents of the Department of Justice intend to ferret out. It is hinted that a number of bogus soldiers recently arrived here and, mingling with the men of different units, gained access to the empty barracks and walked off with missing articles.

Captain W. J. Blythe, I Company, 104th Infantry, reported the loss of a 14-karat gold watch bearing the inscription, "To our beloved captain, I Company, 104th Infantry." The trunk of Lieutenant McKenzie of that company was pried open and a Distinguished Service Cross, No. 795, taken. An army pistol and other souvenirs were also stolen. Lieutenant McKenzie discovered the theft on his return from a furlough.

A man giving the name of Charles H. Clark was found in Ayer wearing a uniform, though never in the service, and told people he recently returned from overseas. Commanding officers in the Depot Brigade have been ordered to line up every man in their charge and ascertain if there are any bogus soldiers among them.

PANHANDLERS IN CAMP.

It is known that a band of panhandlers in uniforms has been frequenting that section of the camp and making the acquaintance of men arriving here from other camps. A thorough canvass will be made to locate such men and turn them over to the civil authorities for action.

Warning has been issued by the camp authorities to the public to beware of these bogus soldiers and to refrain from buying souvenirs from them. Some of these men, it is stated, are wanted on the charge of stealing soldiers' discharge papers.

Reservations have been made in the rest area for 1,425 officers and men of the 121st Field Artillery due here Tuesday.

The men of the 356th Machine Gun Battalion and the 120th Field Artillery will leave here Monday noon for Camp Grant, Ill. They were scheduled to leave here last Tuesday, but it was found that there was a shortage in cars for transportation. Both organizations will parade in Milwaukee, Wis., before reaching their destination for discharge. Most of the men live in the latter State.

A boxing bout in which will appear some well known followers of fistiana will be staged by the Knights of Columbus tonight in the "Y" auditorium.

GOOD HAULS MADE IN GREEN LAKE FISHING

Green Lake, Me., May 7.—Additional returns have been received from the fishermen at Green Lake, and in one day this week some fifty fish were taken. Connie Gallagher took four, Vernon Flye, six; Joseph Wiggin, one 4-pounder; Peter McAuley, one 3½-pounder; Mark Crowley, one 5-pounder; Fischer brothers, one each; Joseph Stewart, one 2-pounder; David J. Nason and James B. Mountaine, one each. At Phillips Lake the fishing is said to be better than for a number of years, and in a two days' fishing recently there were some twenty-five fish reported as landed.

PREDICT LIVING COST WILL RISE THIS YEAR

Pre-War Conditions Not Expected for 12 Months by Bay State Grocers

Fall River, May 8.—Predictions that the cost of living would advance before it falls are freely made by prominent Massachusetts grocers assembled in convention here. They agree that more than a year will pass before a return to pre-war conditions may be expected.

Demand for all kinds of food stuffs from starving Europe is given as the chief reason for the higher prices; short crops, government purchase of big orders and the steadily increasing demands of labor are said to be the other reasons for keeping the prices at the figures.

URGES CLOSING LAW.

Representative Edward F. Harrington, a well-known grocer of this city, succeeded in having the meeting pass a unanimous vote calling for the draft of a legislative bill which will give the grocers shorter hours. The bill will be framed to fit hundreds of foreign storekeepers throughout the State, who are without clerks, but with the aid of members of their families are able to keep their places of business open 15 and 18 hours a day.

The new law will be drawn so as to force them to close their stores at 6 p. m. A new statute is also proposed in an attempt to break up the dealers who insist on breaking the laws regarding the sale of groceries on the Lord's day. Especially in this city, New Bedford, Lowell, Lawrence, Brockton and Haverhill. The matter of small storekeepers selling groceries illegally on Sunday has become a serious problem, it was said.

BOOM SPINNEY FOR OFFICE.

A big boom was launched during the business session for the candidacy of President H. A. Spinney of Dorchester for chief executive of the National Grocers' Association. President Spinney's name will be taken before Lake Ellis at the national convention next summer by delegates of the Massachusetts association, who, unanimously re-electing him their own president, started the campaign for Spinney as the national leader.

Informal protest against the increase of membership dues was started and a selection of protest was despatched to Postmaster-General Burleson by persons in the field.

The Best Way To Use Rouge

The specialist who created the wonderful La-may Face Powder has invented a new rouge. The rouge is inside the puff. All you do is to rub it puff on your face. It comes through the puff just as you need it. It goes on splendidly and stays on the face until you wash it off. The puff is in a dainty metal box. The box cannot break and the rouge will not crumble like the old-fashioned kind. This newly invented rouge is called La-may (French, Rouge d'Ame). It gives a beautiful color that looks natural under the strongest light. There are two colors—medium and dark. The fifty-cent package will last six months, yet the box is small enough to fit your purse. When you use this purse, harness Rouge and see how much more convenient it is and how much better it stays on, you will understand why thousands of women say it is the best they have ever used. Because La-may Rouge is so new, your dealer may not have it yet, but he can easily get it. If your dealer refuses to get you a package, you may order by mail from Herbert Hoxsine, 10 E. 15th St., New York. Save this notice.

Bride Held Captive Over Night by Girl Chums

Bridgewater, May 8.—Charles Brownell of this town was the victim of an "unpractical" joke in his opinion, when friends of the young man kidnaped his bride following the ceremony, took her to the home of one of the young women conspirators and held her a prisoner until the following morning.

Shortly after the wedding cake had been cut an auto drew up in front of the door, and the appearance of the bride was the signal for action by the kidnapers. She was hurried into the machine, which sped away at full speed. Not until the next morning was she returned to the disgruntled husband, who admits he fails to see the joke.

NATIONAL GUARD PLANS WAR ON REGULARS

Roosevelt in Chair at Opening Session of American Legion in St. Louis

St Louis, May 8.—With Lieutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt as temporary chairman, the first caucus of the American Legion, veterans of the World War, was called in the Jefferson Theatre. Colonel Bennett C. Clark served as temporary vice-chairman and Lieutenant Colonel Eric Wood as secretary. More than 1,000 delegates from all parts of the country were present.

The New England executive committee, with Colonel John Herbet of Worcester as chairman, met in the lobby of the Statler Hotel and formulated definite plans to be followed on all matters of policy to be brought before the caucus. When the Massachusetts delegates arrived last evening they found that considerable business had already been accomplished preliminary to the calling of the caucus. A number of delegates, supposed to represent each state, had been assembled in the hotel and were in session with Colonel Roosevelt in the chair.

"Where is Logan, and where is Cole?" was the first inquiry which greeted the Massachusetts delegates, and on being informed that both were unable to come considerable disappointment was expressed.

Coincidently with the calling of the caucus of the Legion, Colonel Clark who is the son of Former Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, was elected the head of the National Guard Organizations of the United States. His sole platform being "smash the regular army." This points to a bitter fight between the National Guard and the regular army. Already one delegate has stated, "We'll have the regulars delivering our mail before long," and with such a leader as Colonel Clark it is on. Without a doubt some attempt will be made to bring the fight before the caucus of the Legion.

Neither Lieutenant-Colonel Roosevelt or Colonel Clark desire the permanent chairmanship of the Legion, according to a statement made by Colonel Clark to the American representative last evening and the caucus will endeavor to find a suitable enlisted man to head it at the first annual convention to be held next November.

Military Career of Colonel Logan Is Brought to Close

Camp Devens, Ayer, May 8.—The military career of Colonel Edward L. Logan, commander of the 101st regiment, came to a close with his discharge as an officer in the United States army.

Colonel Logan's certificate of honorable discharge, signed by Brigadier-General George H. Shelton, was delivered by Brigadier-General Palmer A. Pierce, the officer in command of the casual officers' detachment.

His discharge today brings to a close twenty-one years of service in the National Guard and army. It closes two and a half years of active service, which began with the five months' service at the Mexican border. It was just twenty months ago when he sailed for France with his regiment from Hoboken. It was on March 25, 1917, that he was first called into service with the "Fighting Ninth."

Sweaty Feet Wrong and Unnecessary

Excessive perspiration from the feet is not normal and should not be permitted. It is annoying, embarrassing and ruinous to shoes. This trouble can be absolutely and quickly overcome. Cal-o-cide did it for the soldiers in training and for millions of feet in the past ten years. Get a twenty-five cent package from your druggist. The very first treatment brings most gratifying results, and in a short time the trouble will positively be terminated. Some of the worst cases have been mastered in a week. Cal-o-cide also gives prompt relief for aching, tender, puffed or calloused feet. It goes right into the pores and corrects the cause. In addition, each package of Cal-o-cide contains special little plasters that will remove the worst corn in a hurry. Have good feet. Clip this out.—Advertisement.

Small Maine Towns Figure Heavily in Casualties

Eastport, Me., May 8.—Several small towns of Washington County, near this city, figured prominently in the casualty list, and a large percentage of their young soldiers lost their lives in the war. The small town of Edmunds, 18 miles from here, had 27 enlisted men, and five were killed or died from wounds and sickness. Eastport's large service flag contains 325 stars and nine gold stars.

The Passamaquoddy tribe of Indians, five miles away, furnished twenty-nine soldiers, and nine gold stars were recently added to their service flag, but several of the tribe had enlisted in the Canadian armies and a few in the U. S. navy.

From the town of Edmunds the following soldiers lost their lives in the service: Raymond T. Curtis, Milton L. Smith, Leroy B. Jones and Richard Jones, Winifred Mathias.

PRETTY GIRL AIDED FOE, IS CHARGE

Mexican Girl Accused of Carrying German Propaganda Released Under Bond

Laredo, Tex., May 8.—Among the numerous cases which will come up for disposition by the United States Court for the Southern District of Texas in this city will be one of particular international interest, that being the case of Miss Guadalupe Ledesma, a beautiful Mexican girl aged about sixteen years, who was in the employ of the German propagandists in Mexico and acted as messenger for the propagandists between Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Miss Ledesma was arrested by Department of Justice officials here just before the signing of the armistice. At a preliminary hearing held a few days later the girl pleaded not guilty, but when incriminating evidence, taken from her when she was arrested was produced and she was quizzed, she refused to talk.

It was proved by evidence adduced at the preliminary hearing that Miss Ledesma had been in the employ of the German agents in Nuevo Laredo as messenger to carry information from the American to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande since early in August, 1918, and that she had acted in a very clever and cunning manner to accomplish her objects, sometimes borrowing passports of others and disguising herself or coming to the American side and remaining several days, or as long as was necessary to get the information that she desired.

After hearing the evidence adduced at the trial United States Commissioner Foster bound Miss Ledesma over to the Federal Grand Jury in the sum of $1,000, which was later furnished by Melquiades Garcia, the Mexican consul in Laredo, whereupon she was released.

United States Tires are Good Tires

NET IS CLOSING ABOUT BARRE SLAYER

Arrest Expected Soon by Officers Seeking Murderer of Mrs. Broadwell

Barre, Vt., May 8—That the brutal murderer of Mrs. Harry Broadwell tried to bury the body in the residential section here early Sunday morning, and that he was frightened away by a pack of dogs, and dragged her to the roadside where she was later found, is the belief of the police following information received today.

The identity of the man is suspected, and he may be arrested shortly. The authorities are certain that this last clue is the one which will lead to the solving of the mystery, and put the slayer of the young wife and mother behind bars.

State's Attorney E. R. Davis is busy forging the remaining links in the chain of evidence about the suspected man.

The man in question has already been grilled for long hours, all the investigators having taken turns at him. Some others who know him and his habits have also come under the eyes of the authorities.

That the man who murdered Mrs. Broadwell sought to dispose of her body by burying it in the Wheelock garden in the heart of Barre's business district seems an established fact. Furthermore it is believed that the burial was planned for last Sunday morning at 5.30.

The suspect had already started his grim work when the barking dogs intervened. They yelped incessantly, and in the end forced the man to flee the spot, leaving Mrs. Broadwell's nude body in a position where discovery Sunday morning was easily possible. Twice Sunday morning the sound of barking dogs was heard. It is believed that on the first occasion the dogs barked, not because somebody was in the Wheelock garden with Mrs. Broadwell, alive or dead, but because of some happenings at a spot not far removed from the garden. Sunday it was found that digging had already been started and that soil which was in its proper place Saturday night at 8 o'clock had been carefully removed.

As matters stand today there are but two suspects in the case, one of whom is slightly better thought of than the other.

The authorities believe they have a motive for the crime. One that differs vastly from any heretofore considered. In this theory are substantiated by the Rev. Iferl I. Lehigh, pastor of the Baptist Church, of Barre. Mr. Lehigh declares that for six months prior to the murder Mrs. Broadwell had been a member of his congregation and an earnest worker. Only a few days prior to her death she had been to his parsonage to consult him regarding some matters reflecting on moral conditions here in Barre.

CLERGY DEMAND CLEANUP.

At the time she had with her a woman, whose case was of special interest to both Mr. Lehigh and Mrs. Broadwell. Furthermore they visited at the home of a woman in whom they were also interested.

The clergymen of the city have become thoroughly aroused as a result of the crime and some of its revelations. Today they are indicting an especial appeal to J. Frank Chase of the Watch and Ward Society of New England, begging him to come here with agents for the purpose of cleaning the city up. They believe that a little work by the society will prevent a repetition, not only of this crime, but of others against society which have gone on uninterruptedly for some time past.

State Attorney Davis, with Attorney-General Archibald and a private detective from Boston, today questioned a woman from another town regarding her knowledge of Mrs. Broadwell, a South End house, and certain happenings last Saturday night.

It is expected that through this woman it will be definitely established whether or not Mrs. Broadwell was in the South End house last Saturday night, as has already been stated.

The suspect, whose arrest may be made later today, is under surveillance.

TINKHAM TO GET MILEAGE FOR SOLDIERS

Congressman George Holden Tinkham announces that the proper interpretation of the provisions of the Act as applied to men discharged from the Army, Navy or Marine Corps since November 11, 1918, entitles them to travel allowance of five cents per mile from the place of their discharge to that of their original muster into the service.

A previous decision allowed travel pay of three and one-half cents per mile, and Mr. Tinkham states that if those service men residing in his district who have only received discharge mileage of three and one-half cents a mile, or who have not received any at all, will forward their discharge papers to him he will take up the matter for adjustment.

The company announces that it must spend nearly $10,000,000 in the renovation.

HAS HUSBAND'S MILLIONS, BUT WANTS HIS LOVE

Mrs. Lyman J. Kendall, whose husband has settled millions on her in separation case, but who is lonely without him. She almost hopes that he will court her again. She blames their separation on the lack of common interest.

New York, May 8.—"Try to keep your interests close together. Learn to play the game the other likes. Wear the clothes he likes. Find an interest in the society he likes."

This is the advice to young newlyweds given by Mrs. Lyman Kendall, the four-million-dollar alimony wife, after twenty years of married life. In the suit just granted, by which the marital troubles of the Kendalls came to an end, Mr. Kendall settled $4,500,000 on his wife and, in addition, a yearly income of $100,000.

But now that it is over Mrs. Kendall admits that the money is not everything. She keeps a picture of her "old sweetheart" on the piano in her home at No. 620 Park avenue, and confesses to a feeling that "we may patch it up yet."

Friends of the family predict that the courtship of twenty years ago will be renewed.

MAYOR STARTS WAR ON GREEDY LANDLORDS

Profiteers in Rents to Be Promptly Taken Care of by City's Executive

Mayor Peters has declared war on landlords who may make any attempt at rent profiteering.

Tales of such profiteering in outlying districts were recounted to the Mayor and if they are found to be true Mayor Peters says he will instruct the assessors to take a hand.

In his opinion, he said there is no ground for increasing rents in two and three-family wooden houses. In brick apartments the increases may possibly be justified by advanced costs in janitor service, fuel, etc.

He requests that tenants, who feel they are being unfairly treated by landlords, direct information by letter to his office.

Hydrophobia Rabbits Give Providence Police a Scare

Providence, May 8.—The finding of four rabbits by two boys upset the tranquility of the police when it was learned the little animals were inoculated with the germs of hydrophobia by Dr. R. U. Richards of the State Board of Health and had wandered from the capitol across the State House grounds and found a snug resting place in a barn where they were discovered by the boys.

What would have happened had a rabbit not been made sends shudders through police headquarters from cellar to the garret. While the boys were deliberating just what to do with the animals attendants of the health board were seen hurrying across the capitol grounds asking if anyone had seen any rabbits. About the time the boys had decided to divide the rabbits and take them home a policeman arrived on the scene. He took the rabbits back home.

Would You Improve the Health of Yourself and Family?

Then put into practise these suggestions which any physician or dietary expert will strongly endorse:

1. Cut down on the amount of eggs and meat you buy. Increase the quantity and variety of vegetables and cook them in HOOD'S MILK, serving the vegetables in their milk juices.
2. Substitute HOOD'S MILK for tea and coffee. Also drink half a glass to a glass of Hood's Milk on rising and retiring.

Then you will fully understand why authorities counsel you to "Use More Milk."

The Peace We Want!

Come, Peace! not like a mourner bowed
For honor lost an' dear ones wasted,
But proud, to meet a people proud,
With eyes that tell o' triumph tasted!
Come, with han' grippin' on the hilt,
An' step that proves ye Victory's daughter!
Longin' for you, our spirits wilt
Like shipwrecked men's on raf's for water.

Come, while our country feels the lift
Of a gret instinct shoutin' "Forwards!"
An' knows thet freedom ain't a gift
That comes long in hands o' cowards!
Come, such ez modern prayed for, when
They kissed their cross with lips thet quivered,
An' bring fair wages for brave men,
A nation saved, a race delivered!

SCORE BOSTON FIRMS FOR NOT HIRING HEROES

"There are concerns in this town, I am sorry to say, that have not taken their service men back. They have slid by. They have not shut their doors in the boys' faces but they have not taken them back."

This was the assertion made by J. Austin McGreevy, one of the directors of Filene's, in speaking of Boston business houses which have turned away the returning heroes who come in search of a job.

Mr. McGreevy spoke at the reception given by the Filene's Co-operative Association, of which he is president, to its members returned from war service. Nearly 400 were present at the dinner and concert in the association's headquarters above the store.

Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, the speaker of the evening, backed up what Mr. McGreevy had to say about "Scrooge-like employers who cut out all service facts for business purposes."

SERVICE FLAG A PROMISE.

"Your chief has said properly," said General Edwards, referring to Mr. McGreevy, "that any institution or concern that hangs out a service flag automatically made a promise and a pledge to take back those who went into war service. The man who hangs out a service flag and won't put those fighting lads to work is a camouflage artist who has lied to the flag and his line ought to be published. If you let me know the names of any employers who hung out service flags while the boys were away and then refused to restore them to their prewar positions when they came back, I'll go down myself and tell them what I think of such chunks of them."

SOLDIERS ARE GUESTS.

Of the 240 men who left Filene's to go into war service, sixty-five soldiers, twenty-six sailors, one marine and one T. M. C. A. worker were guests at the banquet. Twenty-two of the soldiers and thirteen of the sailors took off their store clothes and donned their uniforms for the occasion, and as General Edwards entered, formed a guard of honor through which the "Old Man" passed. Every man returned has received back the job he held before he went away while in many cases the service has gained for Filene's employes a step toward promotion.

"I went you returned boys to know that while you were away I never asked for a dollar for a Liberty Bond or a War Savings Stamp in vain," said George W. Draper, president of the men's branch of Filene's Co-operative Association, who presided. "T. K. Cory, store director and a member of the firm, said he hoped the boys would have to go to another war.

TAUGHT FOR A LESSON.

"We have done the job so well that we have taught them that it is a dangerous thing to fool with Americans," he said. "All I can say to you kidding is 'Welcome home, boys, welcome home.'"

"You're work is not yet done and it is up to you to help keep democracy safe," said Mr. McGreevy. "Let not that curse like cutting an Eastern come over our country. Think of that, boys."

Among those who worked to make the reception a success were: Carl Schmidt, J. A. McGrady, Harry Mc-Neily, Miss Nellie Sullivan, Miss Agnes R. H. Schmidt, H. J. Sanderson, A. L. Gilbert, Samuel Bernard, Miss Blanche Sanchez, Lieutenant Joseph Knowles, Ensign Fred Bassett, John Grasck and Chief Petty Officer Hall.

Chaplain Charles McNair made a brief address. Filene's band furnished the music.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"Cain't do it, Mistah Green," replied Len. "Yo' better give me a week off, 'cause I've done been to de 'army, and I sho' got rough. I warn yo' ole Len sho' agon' to act rough the first few weeks, too."

The business man looked surprised.

"You see," continued the colored ex-soldier, "befo' de war, I sat in de front seat wid de driver, yes, sah, Mistah Green.' But in de army, yay I gotter be a top cutter. Got kinder rough befo' I got out, yay, as a top cutter I sho' was IT."

It has been a month or so since Len came back. Mr. Green admits he was a little "bossy."

Petition to the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy to send Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Home with Six Months' Pay

Sign this petition, get your friends to sign it, and forward it to the Boston American, 80 Summer st., Boston, Mass.

To the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War:
To the Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy:

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers, sailors and marines who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justice by a great nation to its heroes.

Inactive Soldier Pens His Grief in Poetry

Los Angeles, May 8.—William B. England, of Headquarters Company, Eighth Infantry, who got over to France but failed to get into action, wrote this lament, bewailing his fate and others in the same "boat":

"We sailed away one happy day
To fight the Huns in France;
To do or die, our hopes ran high,
All we wanted was a chance.
But when we arrived the war blew up
And our hopes came down with a thud!
So here we are, and our part of the war
Was to wallow around in the mud.

"Oh, what shall we say to the folks at home
When they ask us: 'What did you do?'
Did you fight in the trench with the English or French,
For the dear old Red, White and Blue?

"Oh, no, well answer, 'we were too late
To get to the front with the rest.
We did nothing rash, just made a big splash,
In the rain and mud holes of Brest.'"

The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They eliminated waste. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.

FREE BUS RIDES ARE GIVEN IN BROCKTON

Some Jitney Drivers "Play Safe" in License Misunderstanding

Boston, May 8.—Free bus rides were given today by order of the Mayor of Brockton, who, it was declared, was determined to have a clear understanding between the jitney drivers and the public.

Some of the drivers refused to operate, saying the new ordinance was unfair. The Mayor ordered that all jitneys should be licensed at the rate of $25 per year.

Those who refused to comply with the order were relieved of their licenses. Most of the jitneys are now operating under the usual fare of 10 cents, but some have reduced their rates to 5 cents.

Before May 1 the fare will be reduced to 5 cents for adults and 3 cents for children, it is announced.

May Day

IN the old days before they started splashing war taxes on ice cream cones, May day was a time of confetti-tossing and giggling among the people and relatives-in-law.

The folks used to gyrate around a May pole holding ribbons in their mitts like subway straps. After they got plenty dizzy they would listen to the village band trying to neutralize the racket made by the slide trombone. Then the lunkhead made all the racket, but didn't get near enough to the piccolo blower.

After the visiting firemen had marched slowly up the main stem, everybody horied into the big picnic and grabbed indigestion from last year's sandwiches. The visiting firemen always marched slowly, as they didn't want to step out of the village. Then the mayor would make the usual mayor's speech that he inherited with his job and the sun would sink somewhere outside the village unless it was raining.

BUT things have changed since the days when grandpop only wore his necktie on formal occasions. The flapper who buzzed mother to page

THE BIRD OF TIME, CARES NOT PUNCH IN OUR SCHEDULE, BUT DRAWS US OUT, JUST HOW MUCH IS SECRET

lier early because she was nominated Queenie of the May, now has a big brother who prays for a nice cigar May Day, because rain always ruins the fascinator. (Copyright, 1918, INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.)

Big Bill is a welsh chain who belongs to so many workingmen's clubs that he has to work on Sundays to get a rest. He keeps his bad ear toward the factory whistles and wears silk overalls cut low in order to display his multi-karat diamond scarf pin. Big Brother is a Bullshevik—which is quite natural, meaning the majority of cash, majority of drinks, majority of pay but minority of work.

The folks still toss confetti on Big Brother's May Day outings, but only for habit's sake. Instead of the visiting firemen still visit the villages as Bullshevik May days—but only to put out the fires that Big Brother has started.

And they still call it May Day

Meaning that you May live through the day and you May not

HAIL JOIE RAY AS GREATEST SPEEDSTER

Famous Chicago Star Has Established Five New World's Indoor Records

Joie Ray, the lanky winged foot athlete generally hailed today as the greatest speedster of the age. Many competent critics claim that no greater athlete has been seen on the cinder tracks or the board floors of the United States in the past two decades.

His versatility in the matter of distance has caused the experts to marvel, and in dozens of his great races he seemed to be running under wraps with plenty of reserve power to call upon had he been extended.

Ray has made it his boast that he never was run out completely in all his life. No matter how harrying the pace, he always had something left to carry him on and the others to a defeat. Ray is the treasure of Lowell and ambles between Chicago and the Illinois.

The Chicago sprinter holds five indoor world's records and pops with pride to the first record of a mile in forty-three flat. That was four years ago, and now he asserts he can do it in 4:10. His endurance, or the story goes, was gained from an employer who had a bet $1,000 in his home town he could do it.

Joie first showed some wares at the Panama Pacific Exposition before Coach Lawson Robertson and Myer Prinstein, who were then looking over the material that was to represent the Illinois A. A. U. at the Panama-Pacific games. Joie Ray was among the latter.

Baseball News and Notes

Carl Mays, Red Sox's reliable baseball pitcher, is now a member of the Providence team in the minor leagues, and will have to work hard to get back into the major league.

Jack Warhop, who used to sling for the Yankees, is one of the old Chesapeake League pitchers who respected the style of ball he has been serving up to the batters of late.

Mays graduated to the Red Sox in a round up from the Providence team.

His delivery is a puzzle to American League batters.

The success of the underhand delivery has been discussed pro and con ever since, and the majority is agreed that Mays' pitches will strike batters in the most puzzling manner as the game progresses on.

Mays has a fast ball, regardless of the fact that he is the last in the ground-hog class.

The average pitcher uses either an overhand or a sidearm delivery, or across between them, and can easily be solved. Underhand pitchers rather than a few.

It is easy to imagine how a good spitter back, coming from a head of perhaps eighteen inches, thirty inches, or more, would be difficult to judge.

Mays pitches more like Rhines used to pitch, described as a Chesapeake Bay lefty, of the Yankees, and has a faster ball though not as good a curve as Mecklenburg used.

By giving the Yankees an unsuccessful beating in the first game of the season Mays started a row among players and writers.

If they could stand on their heads Mays' fast "screw ball" would look natural enough.

Ed Barrow says he doesn't figure that Mays is a left-handed pitcher, but that he is a right-handed pitcher.

The Kemp is sure there when it comes to playing first base. He steps around the bag as if he were born with one foot on it. He also swings a mean stick from the first base side of the plate.

NEW YORK POLICE STRONG FOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

NEW YORK, after a twenty-five-year struggle, has inaugurated Sunday baseball, with the result that all attendance records for one day in Greater New York were shattered. More than 60,000 persons attended the games at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

The Polo Grounds crowd was announced officially as more than 25,000, and that at Ebbets Field at more than 25,000 before the official count was in and, judging from comparison with known attendance at World's Series games, the figures at the Polo Grounds are conservative.

The [illegible] crowd preserved perfect order in spite of the defeat of the Giants, a score of [illegible] and exciting [illegible] were in order. I was [illegible] I never saw a [illegible] crowd. I ever was a baseball fan.

Exercise in Later Life

By Brice Belden, M. D.

V

People no longer young often fancy that their hearts are more or less played out and that they ought not to take much exercise. If nothing has happened during an individual's lifetime to affect normal heart structure such a fancy is unfounded. Some form of exercise is actually needed, as a rule.

Good heart action, insured by moderate exercise in the open air, as in walking, means improved circulation, particularly in the abdomen, where it tends to become sluggish as one no longer young. The circulation in the muscles is also aided. Thus, with the improvement in appetite, digestion and assimilation, increases vigor.

Part's brisk walking, to all kinds of weather, always keeping within the limits of actual fatigue, preserves the elasticity of the chest walls and lungs, insures an abundant supply of oxygen wherewith waste products are burned up, maintains the body heat at a proper point, keeps the circulatory organs healthy, increases exchanges between the blood and the tissues, stimulates the bones of the extremities in the marrow of which much of our blood is manufactured, and, last but not least, increases the ability to resist disease and retards the brain centres.

A reasonable amount of open-air exercise throughout one's life ought to keep one physically fit for anything until long after sixty. This implies even moderate service. We, of course, are assuming proper attention to general hygiene.

Stocks Active and Higher in New York at Noon

TEXAS CO. UP NEARLY 20 POINTS

Oils the Leaders in Morning Trading, With Shipping Issues Strong

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, the market having had a firm tone from a favorable opening. Oil shares were the feature of an active market. Texas Co. advancing within a fraction of twenty points during the morning. Gains by other oils ranged from two to four points. Shipping issues were another strong group. Atlantic Gulf advancing more than three points, while Mathieu gained 2 points at one point. Motors improved in the second hour, with General Motors ascending nearly four points. Tobaccos were irregular, after showing early strength as a class. At its highest, United States Stores, the preferred, was up 1½. Tobacco Products lost most of its gain, and Sumatra declined more than a point. Alcohols became strong and active in the last hour, with Industrial leading.

U. S. Steel began with ½ gain at 99¼ and sold above par during the morning, its highest being 100½.

Issues to sell at record high prices were Atlantic Gulf, Texas Co., Sinclair Oil, Pan American and Placer Oil. Among those to sell at their year's high were Atlantic Gulf, Marine common, Cuba Cane Sugar, and Southern Railway.

LARGEST GAINS AT NOON.

Largest gains at noon included Texas Co., 15½ at 246, after selling as high as 260; Pan-American, 2¾ at 214; Royal Dutch, old, 1 at 113; new, 1¾ at 112¾; Atlantic Gulf, 3¾ at 43¾; Mexican Petroleum, 3 at 179; General Motors, 3¾ at 181; Atlantic Gulf, 3¾ at 161½; Marine preferred, 1 at 113¾, common, ¾ at 45¾; Industrial Alcohol, 4¾ at 114; Pan American Petroleum, 1¾ at 73; Texas & Pacific, 2 at 46¾; U. S. Food Products, 1¾ at 77; U. S. Steel, ½ at 99¾; Cuba Cane Sugar, 1¼ at 37¾, and Amanonda, ¾ at 80¾.

Among the declines were American Can, ¾; United Cigar Stores, ¾ at 154¾; Republic, 1¼ at 105¾, and Reading, ¾ at 88¾.

PEACE TERMS INSPIRE BUYING.

At the opening the market reflected public satisfaction that peace terms has progressed so far as presenting the terms of the victors to the vanquished, and security prices advanced at once. Buying orders were first to come from all quarters and there was enough short covering to have weight. This was the early part of the day's activity and strength, with Texas Company the leaders as to gains. Mexican Petroleum, which has been a leader for several days in this group, participated in the advance. Coppers were quiet and dull, with no support, but had a firm tone. This was true of rails. Motors were quiet as a class. Rubbers were fractionally higher. Shipping issues were the liveliest group after oils. During the first hour U. S. Steel sold at par, but trading was of less than usual volume in stocks.

CONGRESS AND THE RAILS.

Wall street is vitally interested in what Congress will do in regard to rails. The statement of Director-General Hines as to the colossal deficit of carriers under Federal control is expected to cause speedy legislation in their behalf. Much attention was given the statement of President Loree to Delaware and Hudson stockholders in regard to the relationship of railroads waged under federal control. Among his remarks were the following:

"Railways and all public service enterprises are now required to operate for moderate returns to their owners and these returns secured by but narrow margins of safety. Much below the guaranty profits in the more recent past, where it has not appeared to be even less favorable, and there is no evidence of a change of temper in this respect.

"If the attitude is not to be fatal to private management rectification of conditions that would destroy the margin between safety and insolvency must be immediate, the remedy must always be applied before the margin has been passed. This implies a degree of rapidity in the processes of regulation which the past has shown them not to possess.

"Railways and other public service enterprises have been compelled to wait for justice until action which, if promptly taken, would have suffered, has hardened wholly into default. The section of this defect is among the plainest necessities of the situation."

Constant Preparedness Is America's Only Guarantee Against Japanese Danger

Senator Phelan is right about the Japanese propaganda in our country.

It is a persistent, cunning, sleepless, tireless propaganda.

The head of this propaganda is Dr. Iyenaga, who has his headquarters in New York, and who has been remarkably successful in hoodwinking the East.

The Japanese government finances the so-called "Bureau of the East and West," which is the camouflage title used to disguise Iyenaga's propaganda agency.

The business of this propaganda bureau is to DECEIVE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

The bad faith of the Japanese autocracy in its secret dealings with Russia, when Russia was under the Czar and one of the allies, and with Mexico, when Japan and Mexico were planning mischief against the United States; the savage cruelty of the Japanese toward the poor Koreans—such things as these is the business of Iyenaga's propaganda bureau to suppress, or to minimize or to deny—with the help of foolish American college professors and worse than foolish American newspapers.

There is not an hour in any day when this propaganda is not hard at work.

Its dupes and tools are particularly numerous in the educational institutions and the churches—men like Dr. Soper and Dr. Gulick, for examples—and it is aided by newspapers, such as the New York Times and the Los Angeles Times, either through discreditable ignorance or through other motives.

The shrewd Japanese are copying every detail of the British system of propaganda, upon which England has built up her dominance of the world—and the first objectives of their campaign are the educational institutions and the publications of the country.

The Japanese know that the people have an exaggerated estimate of the intellectual power of college professors and editors, and that if propaganda can first make dupes of these overrated persons it can, through them, make dupes of thousands who have an entirely unwarranted respect for the opinions and utterances of these personages of the campus and the sanctum.

But, unfortunately for the Japanese propagandists, there is a great institution in this country which they have never been able to deceive, nor to coerce, nor to cajole, nor to subsidize.

The Hearst newspapers are that institution.

And while the Hearst newspapers continue to be read and to be trusted by millions of Americans—literally by six millions in a voting population that is less than eighteen millions—the Japanese propaganda is not going to be permitted to deceive the entire American people.

The indictment which we bring against the Japanese autocracy and military caste is this:

First—That in all respects the Japanese autocracy, military caste and diplomacy are modeled upon the overthrown autocracy, militarism and diplomacy of Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary as those monarchic governments existed before 1914. As long as the present autocracy, militarism and diplomacy of Japan exist, the assertion that autocracy was banished from the earth and the world made safe for democracy and for little peoples by the great war falls short of the full facts.

Second—The Japanese autocracy, military caste and diplomats hate America in their hearts, and are constantly engaged in stirring up hatred of America in Japan, in Mexico, in South America, and in planning to obtain military and naval bases in the Pacific Ocean, and military and naval forces with which to launch a sudden and dangerous attack upon our ocean outposts and upon our mainland, whenever the United States has been lulled into another period of unpreparedness and Japan has simultaneously strengthened her armaments and her resources by the covert conquest of China and the secret colonization of Hawaii, Mexico and the Philippines with Japanese reserve soldiers in the disguise of laborers, gardeners, merchants and the like.

Third—That during the war Japanese autocracy, military caste and diplomats conspired with the Czar to desert the allies, to leave France, Italy and England to their fate, and to divide China and all the rest of Asia, India included, between themselves as the fruit of their treachery—and for the truth of this we call to witness the secret documents exposed by the Russian revolutionary government.

Fourth—That as part of this treacherous plot there was a secret pact between Japan, Mexico and Germany to attack the United States, in order to keep the United States from going to the help of France, Italy and England—and that the Zimmerman note is clear proof of such an understanding—the very language of that note showing that Zimmerman was simply calling upon the other conspirators to perform their part of a well understood secret compact.

Fifth—That as part of the whole conspiracy to make Asia and Asiatics supreme, this same Japanese autocracy has its agents at work, openly flattering and cajoling the American press, the American government and the American people, while secretly it is stirring up troubles in the country, such as the Harry Chandler Imperial Valley treachery, the land and school troubles in California, the troubles in Colorado, and the Mexican aggression upon our citizens and their rights and properties.

And that our government is at last learning the truth is evident from the public declaration of Senator Lewis that we are now threatened with war from Japan.

Senator Lewis is the spokesman of the present administration.

We assume that he is not merely speaking his own opinion.

And we know that he is speaking the truth.

Of course, the Hearst papers have been warning the country of this danger for years, have been urging preparation against this danger for years; and have for this reason become the target of all the calumny and abuse and blackguarding that envious competitive publications could print.

The crime committed by the Hearst papers was the crime they so frequently commit; that of seeing the truth before duller competitors saw it—and the collateral crime of TELLING THE TRUTH before others told it.

Because we have seen the activities, plots, treacheries and hypocrisies of the Japanese autocracy in their true perspective, AND HAVE TOLD THE AMERICAN PEOPLE THIS TRUTH about Japan, the Japanese propaganda agents have used every means in their power to blacken the motives and to discredit the truthfulness of the Hearst papers.

Time and truth have marched with us, and all the malignant hate and abuse of the Japanese propagandists, aided by their willing and knowing or by their deceived and ignorant dupes and tools, have been wasted.

The people of the United States are at last awakening to the motives and preparations of their Asiatic autocracy; to the menace of its treachery and its designs; to the ruthlessness of its ambitions.

We intend that Japanese propaganda shall never again lull our people to sleep.

The American people need have no fear of Japan if they keep up a vigorous and powerful naval preparation against any treacherous Japanese attack.

But not if we let our navy run down while Japan builds up her navy.

Not if we permit England, the ally of Japan, or any other power, even though at present a friendly power, to maintain a greater navy than ours.

Not if we permit any two foreign navies to exceed our own and to be able to seize our coasts in combination against us.

Not if we listen to any foreign propaganda, whether pro-British, pro-Japanese or pro-anything else that is FOREIGN.

The only absolute guarantee of our peace and safety is the possession of superior force and the preparedness to use that superior force for the rights and interests of our own American people.

If we keep prepared to use our superior force, we will not have to use it. The possession and preparation of force enough to break any enemy that might want to attack us will insure us against such an attack.

Not if we let the events of the past four years must have taught the dullest mind the profound truth that it costs thousands of times as much to plunge into war unprepared as it does to prevent war by maintaining preparedness.

Surely everybody now knows that if our government had possessed enough statesmanship to prepare on a great scale for war in 1915 we should never have had to go to war in 1917.

Surely everybody now knows that our lack of statesmanship in this matter has cost us alone more than two hundred thousand dead and wounded young men and billions of money, and has cost Europe two more years of agony, slaughter and destruction, ending, as we so often prophesied it would end, in revolution and anarchy over more than half of Europe and in the bankruptcy of every nation on that continent.

All that we prophesied has either come true or is in the process of coming true. And all this waste and destruction of the white race is simply water on the wheel of the Asiatic autocracy which now menaces us.

Countrymen, do, for the sake of our dear country, be warned while yet it is time.

Because if you again sleep in a fool's paradise; if you again repeat the stupendous folly that has cost us so dear in these past four years; if you again listen to the soft whispers of alien propaganda; if you are even persuaded that fearless and honest papers, which warn you of danger, are not truthful and patriotic—then, countrymen, you will again have to go to war—and to far more desperate and dangerous war—and again see victory bought at a cost so unnecessary and so tremendous that all the huge cost of this war will appear insignificant.

Countrymen, be wise, be vigilant, be prepared.

For if the republic stands armed and with all her mighty strength ready to strike, what enemy can prevail against us or put a conquering foot upon our dear land?

Ye TOWN GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

Dear K. C. B.: In the morning we read your story about the policeman who liked cats and who lets you go, and in the afternoon we were going to the country for a few days and we had our cat with us. In one of the suburban towns our driver overran a stop signal, and we were forced to back up until we reached the officer. Then I held the cat up so that he could see it, but he paid no attention to it and gave us a ticket. It is quite evident that all police do not like cats. H. A. R.

IN THE first place.
I NEVER even suggested.
THAT WE bribed the officer.
BY SHOWING him the kitten.
AND I stated distinctly.
THAT THE reason he told us.
TO GO ahead and beat it.
WAS BECAUSE other cars.
WERE PILING up behind us.
AND WE were blocking traffic.
AND HAD to go somewhere.
AND ALL the kitten did.
WAS TO establish a friendship.
FOR THE time being.
BETWEEN THE officer and me.
AND IN view of that friendship.
WILL YOU please tell me.
HOW THE officer.
COULD HAVE found it in his heart.
TO PUNISH me.
FOR JUST driving in.
BETWEEN A couple of stanchions.
INSTEAD OF going around them.
AND WHEN I told the story.
I HAD no intention.
OF STARTING a run on cats.
FOR THE sole purpose.
OF CARRYING them around.
SO THAT their owners.
MIGHT AVOID punishment.
FOR ROAD infractions.
AND, ANYWAY.
IT WAS just an accident.
THAT MY policeman.
HAD A fondness for cats.
HE MIGHT have hated them.
AS SOME persons do.
AND IF that had been the case.
HE WOULD have surely pinched me.
SO YOU can see.
THAT IN carrying the kitten.
I WAS taking a chance.
OF INCREASING my troubles.
AND BESIDES that.
SOME POLICEMEN like horses.
AND SOME like dogs.
AND SOME like babies.
AND SOME like cows.
AND IF you wanted to be sure.
OF WINNING the policeman.
AND MAKING him forget.
THAT HE was going to arrest you.
YOU'D HAVE to get a truck.
AND LOAD it all up.
WITH ALL sorts of livestock.
AND AFTER all.
THE BEST thing to do.
IS TO keep out of trouble.
EVEN IF you have a truck.
AND COWS and everything.

I THANK you.

Beautiful American Girl Off for Siberian Honeymoon

Would YOU brave the Russian Bolsheviki?

Would you volunteer to go with your husband into bleak Siberia, voluntarily entering a region of bleak mystery, peril and misery, where only Angels of Mercy can bring or enjoy happiness?

That is what one beautiful American girl is going to do—and be, an angel of mercy, a friend in need, a nurse to the sick, an encourager of the despairing.

And this is to be—her honeymoon!

It was early in the Spring of 1917 that the beautiful and talented Miss Frances Simpson Stevens, of New York, met Captain Prince Dmitri Nicolaievitch Galitzin, son of the Czar's former Prime Minister and Governor-General of Moscow. The Prince was then worth millions; his father held an important State position in the then existing government of the Czar, and he himself was a distinguished officer of the Russian navy. But that was not all—for he was a brave, handsome, noble young man—and he looked into the eyes of this American girl who seemed fairer than all the beauties he had seen at all the courts of Europe, and he loved her at once. It was mutual—and so rapid was the courtship that within a few days they were engaged.

Then came the Revolution. And now—Bolshevism. The family has lost its wealth; lost its land; lost not only its vast estates, but its position as well; the Galitzins have been virtual exiles.

A true story, well worth reading—in the next Sunday Advertiser and American.

Did you know that trained seals—or more properly, California sea lions—were successfully used to hunt down U-boats in the late war? That is one of the most surprising secrets the British navy has revealed. You have admired and wondered at the cleverness of these animals in the circus or on the vaudeville stage—here the dogs of the sea used their really remarkable powers to deliver the German sea-wolves to destruction.

Who is your "most sincere admirer?" Be honest!—look in the glass! Henry Clive's lovely model was—and the result is a delightful conception which forms the full-color cover of the Magazine Section for next Sunday.

Who would ever guess that crabs wear their teeth on their hind legs, that the little sea urchin has five jaws with teeth, while the big elephant uses only four teeth, and that lobsters carry around a complete set of knives, forks, saws, nut crackers, toothpicks, and even a comb and brush, and the whale with excellent teeth never bites on them? A lot of other curious facts about teeth may also be gleaned from an instructive scientific article printed next Sunday.

A bit of interesting gossip—whisper—why Newport is watching Mrs. Douglas' divorce. (You disapprove of gossip, of course—still, you'll be interested in this.)

Lovely—lovely afternoon gown, by the famous "Lucile!"

"Moon of Israel," Rider Haggard's masterpiece, grows in interest.

"He wuz—she were—wuz I—who is?" Poor "Father" is learning to speak "correct English." "Youse wuz—I used to wuz—I are—she wuzn't—they is! It are fierce!" Also it's the funniest yet.

Water Power Grab

Editor Boston American:

I wish to congratulate you on the splendid and determined fight you are making on behalf of the citizens, not only of Massachusetts, but of the country, against the monopolistic water-power interests, who are seeking a law to abduct for their own aqueducts that which belongs to each and every citizen of our State. When one recalls the great work accomplished in a national way along these lines by such men as Roosevelt, Pinchot and Garfield, it seems a crime for forward-looking individuals to sit mutely by and allow these things to go on at the present time without the proper protest. I hope that you will be successful in securing roll calls in both branches on this most important measure, and that the vote will be won by the people.

ALFRED DANFORTH.

At Last the Peace Terms No Lock to the Door A Wingless Eagle Will It Last?

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

Yesterday peace terms were handed to the Germans. And yesterday was the anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania. If Germany had kept her submarines at home or had limited their attacks to other than American ships, she would not have had such a peace handed to her—at least not yet.

The submarine brought the United States into the war with men, money and food. The United States brought the world out of the war in a hurry.

It will seem to Germany—and it is—a savage peace from the military point of view. The powers say to Germany:

"You surprised us once. It shall not happen again. You shall have only one hundred thousand soldiers all told, including not more than four thousand officers to direct. And every soldier must be a volunteer. You shall have no fortifications within fifty miles of the River Rhine."

That will make it necessary to rewrite the well known chorus: "Fest Steht and Treu Die Wacht Am Rhine."

East of the Rhine for fifty miles there will be open land unfortified. The treaty says to Germany, "You shall not have a lock upon your outer door." The German navy is cut to a shadow, and there vanishes for the present the dream of equality, one of many Hohenzollern dreams.

The German eagle has his wings not clipped, but cut off short. No more flying. For a few months Germany may use planes to search for mines planted in the ocean. After October no military or naval air ships. Both the ocean above and the ocean on earth, free to others, are denied to Germany. It is a drastic peace.

Germany loses all of her colonies. They will be administered by one of the great colonizing powers.

There is only one such power, that upon which the sun never sets. "Bright Phoebus," which is the sun's fancy name, as he rises hereafter will say to himself, "Hello! More British flags in sight, more British land for me to shine on. That must be an energetic nation."

Germany's cables under the ocean are taken from her. Weapons, colonies, cables permitting the sending of confidential business messages, warships, ex-warships—all gone and the lock taken off the front door. A very complete peace.

Will the allies know how to use it?

Italy, China, Portugal, Serbia, all minority stockholders in the glorious victory, complain bitterly and as regards Italy and China at least most justly.

Without Italy the war could not have been won, at least for years longer. As for poor China, had she sided with Germany the Allies could not have done much more than cut off a huge slice of territory, including the sacred grave of Confucius, and hand it to Japan, the country that China bitterly hates.

Note the suggestion that Germany's fleet of battleships be sunk. That would seem like brutal, ignorant destruction of property worthy of Attilla, since England, France and Italy are building and will build warships. Why destroy a whole fleet?

Destruction is suggested because if the German ships came to the United States, they would put us nearer to England in naval power and that wouldn't do. England loves us, has confidence in us, but doesn't want to push the thing to extremes.

If England added the German ships to her overwhelming fleet, that might worry France and some of the other nations, including America. We love England, and have her blood in our veins—all except about eighty millions of us, but we should not relish conditions under which our ships would go to sea with England's permission.

Germany's real trouble began when she told this country where we might and might not send our ships.

England, more tactful than Germany, would not send such a message. But the United States would not like to feel that England was in a position to send the message at any time if she happened to feel like it.

That is why Josephus Daniels, who declined the King's title that would have made him "Sir Josephus," says this nation wants a navy as big as any in the world. It may be almost treason to say so, but that is how Americans feel about it. They don't want any big brother to protect them on sea or on shore.

Will it last? Go back a hundred years and you find Napoleon Bonaparte also making Prussia harmless forever as a military power. He said that Prussia could have no army at all, but the Queen was very pretty and he let her have just a few soldiers and officers to keep up the dignity of the royal family. The "few" grew into the army that just missed taking Paris in 1914.
